GERMANY NOTIFIES LEAGUE OFFICIAL OF WITHDRAWAL

Berlin Offers Tax Concessions to Individuals Spending Money to Help Strengthen National Air Defenses.

HITLER REITERATES EQUALITY DEMANDS

French Cabinet Meanwhile in Shaky Position Because of Opposition to Budget Provisions.

By the Associated Press. Germany officially notified the League of Nations general secretary Thursday night of her withdrawal from the League.

Only a few hours before this move to fulfill her decision of Saturday, the officially-inspired Diplomatich Politische Korrespondenz said "It will be easy to find a basis" for an understanding on Germany's demands for equality, the reason given for the withdrawal.

A decree by the German finance ministry indicated Germany is preparing against air attacks and provided Germans spending money for defenses will have those sums deducted from taxes.

Chancellor Hitler, in an interview, repeated that Germany seeks peace and equality and better relations with neighbors.

This was the situation in other European centers: Geneva—Germans in Geneva insisted that Germany hoped for a re-modeling of the League of Nations' system of action so it will be less of an instrument for fulfilling provisions of the Versailles treaty.

Paris—The French cabinet admitted in a shaky position because of opposition in the chamber of deputies to Premier Daladier's budget balancing and anti-inflation program, on which he said he would stake the life of the government.

Vienne—The Austrian government pushed with increasing vigor its campaign against Hitlerites and arrested a number of Nazi leaders on various charges.

Rome—The Rome correspondent for the Reichspost said Italy is organizing a "fourth international" to foster the relationship of all European fascist movements.

Rome—News from Vienna that Italy is trying to consolidate fascism was ridiculed in official circles.

OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION MADE OF WITHDRAWAL MADE

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The German government officially notified the general secretary of the League of Nations tonight of its withdrawal from that body.

Thereby it carried out a decision announced last Saturday even though reports had intimated that she might remain.

Only a few hours before the communication was sent to Geneva, the officially inspired Diplomatich Politische Korrespondenz asserted that "it will be easy to find a basis of an understanding for regulating the equilibrium."

Rev. J. P. Swann Appointed Board of Control Member

The Rev. J. P. Swann, 70-year-old retired Baptist minister and former superintendent of schools in Grady county, Thursday was appointed to the state board of control by Governor Eugene Talmadge. He succeeds Henry T. McIntosh, of Albany, whose resignation was accepted last week by the governor.

Mr. Swann said his hobby always had been economy and would continue to be economy.

R. F. C. POST TAKEN BY RYBURN G. CLAY

Atlanta Banker Heads Sixth District Deposit Liquidating Group.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Ryburn G. Clay, president of the Fulton National bank, of Atlanta, and a member of the Georgia public works advisory commission, today accepted an invitation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to be chairman of its sixth federal reserve deposit liquidating committee and will head a group of prominent bankers which will obtain loans to cover deposits of closed banks in the southeastern area.

The loans are to be paid only to those banks which have been forced to close their doors since January 1 of this year.

The invitation to Mr. Clay was made by Jesse E. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., C. C. Merriam, director of the corporation's deposit liquidating board; Dean Acheson, under-secretary of the treasury, and Lewis Douglas, director of the federal budget.

Announces Acceptance. Mr. Clay announced his acceptance in a long-distance telephone conference with R. F. C. officials today. The post carries no salary.

Under the plan of the R. F. C. sponsored by the president, banks which have closed since January 1, with the approval of the banking superintendent of their state, make loans from the corporation to liquidate deposits and to aid in reopening. Mr. Clay will be called upon to name a committee to function in the sixth federal reserve district and to take steps to appraise the financial conditions of the closed banks in his area.

Recommendation of the committee operating in the various districts. Whether or not about 10 banks in Georgia which have closed since January 1 will be able to share in the plan remains to be determined. Some

Service Commission Appeals Are Heard

The supreme court of Georgia Thursday heard arguments on the appealed certiorari of the suspended members of the Georgia public service commission but did not get to the appeal of Captain J. W. Barnett's ouster proceedings against Chairman J. J. Mangham, of the state highway board.

The court grouped the four appeals and public service commission cases and heard part of the arguments presented in behalf of the four members with actions pending. James A. Perry, Albert Woodruff, Walter R. McDonald and Julia W. Felton.

Robert Blackburn and G. C. Spence, of Atlanta, representing Mr. Perry, contended that since the statute under which the governor removed the commissioners does not define the disqualifications on which the chief executive may act, the commissioners are entitled to a judicial determination of its meaning. Assistant Attorney-General John T. Gore, representing the state, contended that the powers of the governor are clearly defined.

The arguments were adjourned during Mr. Spence's appearance and will be concluded today. It is expected the Barnett-Mangham case will be taken up immediately thereafter.

U. S. WILL ORDER MORE ROAD FUNDS FOR ATLANTA AREA

Washington Officials To Require Readjustment of Georgia's $10,000,000 Highway Program.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—In keeping with demands made last week by Representative Robert Ramspeck, of the fifth Georgia district, Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States bureau of public roads, announced late today that officials here will ask the Georgia highway department to make a readjustment of the $10,000,000 road building program recently submitted and allocate additional funds for the Atlanta area.

The announcement of Mr. MacDonald was made after a conference with C. S. Snead, federal division engineer at Montgomery, Ala., with jurisdiction over activities of the bureau of public roads in Georgia.

The Georgia highway department, he declared, will be asked to allocate to Atlanta at least $1,200,000 which is approximately double the amount called for in the original program.

During conferences here with Chief MacDonald last week, Representative Ramspeck insisted that the original allocation of some $600,000 for Atlanta was inadequate in view of the heavy employment centering in the city. He pointed out to the public roads bureau chief that the national recovery act under which federal highway funds aggregating $400,000,000 were appropriated contemplated that special attention should be given to street and other road improvements in cities having acute unemployment problems.

In revealing that officials here had determined to ask the Georgia board to revise its program respecting Atlanta, Mr. MacDonald said there was no intention to act arbitrarily in the matter but that this course seemed necessary to conform to the purposes of the recovery act.

Officials here, he said, will not attempt to outline to the Georgia board what new projects should be adopted for Atlanta, leaving that detail to the state body. At the same time, however, Mr. MacDonald will insist on a revision making proper provision for the chief city of the state.

Plans Not Complete For Shows on Sunday

Managers of Atlanta motion picture houses will confer at 11 o'clock this morning with W. E. Mitchell, chairman of the Georgia state relief commission, with a view of obtaining an affiliation through which proceeds of Sunday motion picture shows could be turned over to the state body. A. H. Fowler, president of the Atlanta Theater Managers' Association, announced the conference and at the same time reiterated that shows will not be opened until the association is able to comply with every stipulation of the state blue laws.

It is planned to open the houses Sunday if Mr. Mitchell and his commission with the aid of theaters, which they heretofore have sought. It was expected that the conference this morning will be nothing short of a formality because of the urgent need for local funds and the problems between dealers between the commission and individual theaters.

Love B. Harrell, attorney for the association, said he had been working out details of the opening plan.

Hearing on Peanuts Is Slated for Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The farm administration will hold a hearing tomorrow on a proposed marketing agreement for the peanut industry, submitted by the Virginia-Carolina Peanut Association and the Southeastern Peanut Association. Peanut growers in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas are expected to be represented at the hearing.

Road Project Bids To Be Asked Monday

Chairman J. J. Mangham, of the state highway board, announced Thursday that the call for bids on the first projects to be launched under the state's $10,000,000 federal emergency road program would be issued by his office Monday afternoon.

Mr. Mangham said that the board already had received approval of detailed plans on a number of minor projects, but that they were too small to warrant a letting by themselves, the board having decided to wait until Monday, or which time it is expected that all of the plans now before federal engineers will have been approved.

It is expected that the projects on which bids will be called will involve an expenditure of about $2,000,000 with others to follow as speedily as possible.

Joshua Johns, International Head of Kiwanis, Will Address State Convention Here Today

Joshua L. Johns, of Appleton, Wis., international president of Kiwanis, this morning will address Georgia Kiwanians at their seventeenth annual district convention which began Thursday at the Ansley hotel. Mr. Johns and District Governor Dave Parker will be honored tonight at an entertainment in the ballroom of the Shrine mosque, to be attended by more than 1,000 Kiwanians and members of their families.

The program opened Thursday morning with registration at the Ansley. The day was turned over to golf, arranged by Robert Clark, and motion pictures, arranged by E. E. Whitaker. The meeting of the board of district trustees Thursday night was followed by dancing in the Ansley ballroom. The golf tournament winners were L. R. Hunter, Atlanta, low gross; B. G. Herzog, Hogsansville, low net; W. L. Harris, Marietta, most pars; and Robert A. Clark, Atlanta, most birdies. The trophies will be awarded at the Shrine mosque entertainment tonight.

International President and Mrs. Johns arrived in Atlanta Thursday. He said that the organization had a small loss in membership during the last three years, because of men dropping out for no cause of their own, but the loss has been stopped and a slight increase is now noted. More new members were added since the

U. S. Takes Over Control Of Machine Gun Sales

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The federal government today took over control of the sale of machine guns in its war on racketeering through the NRA code for small arms. Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, chairman of the senate rackets committee, announced the decision after conferences with President Roosevelt and Attorney General Cummings.

Under the modified code, machine guns and sub-machine guns can be sold to federal, state and government subdivisions and only to banks and private business corporations through the approval of the attorney-general and the secretary of war.

"The machine gun is the weapon of the underworld," said Copeland, "and we have got to control it."

Way Seen For U. S. To Slash High Pay

Cummings Believes It Possible; Tax Legislation Contemplated. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Attorney-General Cummings has submitted an opinion to President Roosevelt that there are ways for the government to curb payments of huge salaries to corporation officers.

The opinion was requested some time ago, indicating determination to put some kind of a limit on what the president regards as excessive salaries.

Mr. Cummings declined today to discuss his opinion, but conceded to reporters that "there are ways of getting it."

It is understood from another source that federal officials are considering tax legislation as the principal weapon in cutting down the stupendous salary payments from struggling business corporations.

Meanwhile, the national recovery administration is tackling the problem. It appears likely, however, that Mr. Roosevelt will have to seek specific legislation in the form of taxes on corporations paying salaries above certain amounts.

The president conferred at length today with the attorney-general on legal phases of his vast financial program, including those agencies already set up and those in contemplation. Mr. Cummings had no comment to make on this conference.

STRIKE IS CALLED TO FORCE SPEED IN RAISING PRICES

Bryan Demands Fiat Money Issue for Bonds and Bonus; Norris Joins Clamor for Inflation To Aid Farmer.

RAILROADS IGNORE EMBARGO ON WHEAT

Farmers Criticize Delay in 'Unfreezing' Deposits; Increase in Wheat Tax Under Study.

By the Associated Press. A national farm strike to begin at noon Saturday was called last night by the National Farm Holiday Association after a meeting of its directors in St. Paul, Minn.

The purpose of the strike would be to increase farm prices by stopping the normal flow of farm produce to market and to compel the government to formulate an NRA code for agriculture.

Discontent with the administration's recovery and agricultural program was voiced by leaders in the farm belt states—Nebraska, Illinois and North Dakota.

The national strike call also followed a demand from the Missouri Farmers' Union that an embargo be placed on wheat shipments from that state similar to the one proclaimed by Governor William Langford, of North Dakota.

Governor Charles Bryan, of Nebraska, charged the NRA had made conditions worse instead of better for farmers.

Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska republican, told the administration in Washington the farmers were losing confidence in prices went up and his income went lower. He asked that Liberty bonds be retired with new money instead of being refunded.

Ken Neville, Nebraska NRA administrator, resigned because he said he was out of sympathy with the recovery program.

E. J. Smith, of Chicago, chairman of the national corn-hog program, said Secretary Wallace's plan to aid corn and hog growers failed to meet the need of immediately raising hog prices. He said it was much less effective than the one proposed by his committee.

Railroad executives said they would abide by federal laws rather than North Dakota's wheat embargo proclamation as grain moved across the state's line, the Nebraska farmer's ban.

Governor Langer told national guard commanders to be ready for mobilization orders.

Montana was urged to issue a similar proclamation to stop wheat shipments.

Death of Bancroft Pronounced Suicide

COHASSET, Mass., Oct. 19.—(UP)—Hugh Bancroft, president of Dow, Jones & Company and publisher of several financial papers, was pronounced a suicide today by Medical Examiner George V. Higgins shortly after his burial at Forest Hills cemetery, Boston.

Bancroft died Tuesday night at his Cohasset estate, Deer Hill. First announcement was that he had been the victim of a heart attack.

Dr. Higgins said late today that Bancroft had entered a forge house on his estate, closed all windows and the door, and started a fire in the forge. He died as a result of the fumes.

HOG PROCESSING TAX WILL BE HIKED DEC. 1

Maximum Duty of $2 Will Be Reached on February 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace today announced the dates for increases in processing taxes on hogs, which will be at the initial rate of 50 cents per hundred weight, effective November 5.

The tax will be increased to $1 per hundred weight on December 1, to $1.50 on January 1, 1934, and will reach its maximum of $2 on February 1.

The tax at the $2 rate will continue until the end of the 1934-35 hog marketing year, November 4, 1935, unless Wallace finds it necessary to make adjustments in the rate as provided in the farm act.

Tax collections on live hogs during that period are expected to total $34,000,000, of which about $10,000,000 will be used to reimburse the federal treasury for sums it advanced to finance the recent emergency hog marketing program.

A maximum of $200,000,000 will be available as benefit payments to farmers who reduce hog production 25 per cent under the new program.

A maximum of $38,000,000 of the receipts of the tax will be used for market operations for relief purposes and administrative expenses.

The farm act exempts from the processing tax hogs processed by or for a farmer for consumption by his own family, employees or household.

This means that a farmer may butcher hogs for his own consumption and cure the carcass portions without any tax being imposed or he may have the butchering and curing for his own consumption done tax free.

The tax will be refunded to persons or institutions delivering hog products to organizations exclusively for charitable distribution. The tax will also be refunded on exports of hog products, while imports will be subject to compensatory import taxes equivalent to the processing tax.

CABINET DEFEAT LOOMS IN FRANCE

Chamber of Deputies Reluctant To Accept Daladier's Budget Program.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The position of the French cabinet admittedly was precarious tonight because of serious opposition in the chamber of deputies to Premier Daladier's budget balancing program.

The government was notified by the chamber finance committee that it would be "impossible" to pass the measures within the week specified by the premier.

This and publicly expressed nervousness over the French franc accentuated the feeling among friends of the government that the situation was serious.

Government officials frankly admitted the chance that the cabinet might be overthrown.

Worry on the house was reflected by the erratic course of the franc, and an upward movement of the American dollar was no longer called dollar strength but franc weakness.

M. Daladier when he appeared at the opening of congress this week told the deputies that the budget must be balanced completely or the country must find a new government.

He urged quick action on a bill designed to safeguard the franc and ward off inflation by raising a total of 8,000,000,000 francs (now about $440,000,000) by new revenue measures and economies.

The financial paper, L'Information, ascribed the "weakness" of the franc to "a pessimistic exaggeration of the French situation."

It added, however, that "it is useless to conceal the fact that there are heavy offerings of francs."

In this connection it was remembered that the premier formally declared that the franc position was endangered and that inflation would follow unless the budget were completely balanced.

BICENTENNIAL GROUP PLANS MUSIC WEEK

Interesting compositions, songs and poems will be displayed throughout the state in connection with the Music Week of the Georgia bicentennial celebration from October 22 through October 28, it was announced by Lawrence G. Nelson, chairman of the bicentennial music committee.

The work of Georgia composers and lyricists will be featured in various programs and demonstrations designed to honor Georgia musicians. Included in the programs will be such names as Frank L. Stanton, Barilli, Benton, Mattingly, Hopson, Hodgson, Zacharia, Johnson, Crowe, Stephens, Strickland, Flick, Nelson, John Wesley and Lowell Mason, the hymn writer. Dr. Albert R. Rogers, bicentennial director, said much interest in the week had been evidenced in the state.

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, shallow complexion, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

morow, today drank good Bourbon whisky, provided for him under edict of Governor James Rolph Jr. Though Governor Rolph ordered that Egan should have all the whisky he desires before he walks the last mile to the rope, the prisoner was satisfied today with a half pint, delivered to him by Dr. L. L. Stanley, acting warden of the prison.

"There's more if you think you need it," Dr. Stanley said.

Egan first offered the acting warden a drink and when Dr. Stanley declined, took two drinks himself, both straight. With the second he lifted his glass, smiled, and gave the toast: "To the governor."

"Give him my thanks, warden," he told Dr. Stanley. "This is good whisky." He shoved the bottle through the bars of his cell to a guard.

"Take good care of it," he cautioned, "I'll tell you when I want another drink."

Egan is to be hanged at 10 a. m. tomorrow. "But I think this'll be enough whisky," he said. "I don't want to go out swacked, you know."

HOOVER OFFICIALS REFUSE TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Several district attorneys appointed by former President Hoover are refusing to accede to the administration's request that they resign.

Attorney-General Cummings made this known today, not mentioning names.

An accompanying statement said that only officials whose work was unsatisfactory had been asked to quit; and that "there has been no ruthless policy of demanding resignations because of party considerations."

A large number of able men of republican affiliations serving under the justice department, he said, will be permitted to fill out their terms.

In this classification he put George Z. Medaris, district attorney in New York. He added, however, that Mr. Medaris was anxious to retire and for the present was staying on by request. The administration is not yet prepared to name a successor.

Mr. Cummings also praised the services and ability of Dwight Green, district attorney at Chicago.

He said that in cases where district attorneys' services have been unsatisfactory or there have been charges of neglect, the administration has had no difficulty in obtaining resignations.

In a group which Cummings characterized as "border line cases," defining them further as officials whose services have not been particularly good but still not bad enough to be made the basis of charges, the department has had the trouble in obtaining resignations.

Cummings declined to say what the government's next move would be.

DIFFICULT MURDER OF "DURABLE MIKE" TO SEND 4 TO CHAIR

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—For the murder of "Durable Mike" Malloy—who survived a diet of wood alcohol, poisoned oysters and chopped pins only to die with a gas tube in his mouth—four men must pay with their lives.

Frank Pasqua, an undertaker, and three co-defendants turned pale when a jury found them guilty just before dawn today of murder in the first degree. They were accused of killing Malloy, a speakeasy delirious, to collect $800 insurance.

As the state told the story, Pasqua, Anthony Marino, 27; Daniel Kreisberg, 28; and Joseph Murphy, 28, insured Malloy's life in their favor. Then he was fed poisoned oysters and sardines mixed with chopped pins, with wood alcohol to wash the diet down.

That didn't kill him, so he was run over by a taxi in a carefully staged "accident." After a few days, he got up from his hospital cot, walked into a speakeasy conducted by Marino, and said:

"Let's have some more of that good liquor."

He finally was stupefied by wood alcohol and then killed with gas. Pasqua buried him in a pauper's grave.

LAGUARDIA, M'KEE FIRE NEW CHARGES

Fusion Nominee Accuses
Independent of Selfish Patronage Act.

By FRANCIS A. JAMIESON.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fiery fusion mayoral nominee, who has lashed his opponents for "bossism," was accused today by Joseph V. McKee, independent, "snapping the whip of patronage to serve his own political ambitions."

Quickly responding, LaGuardia charged that McKee, as president of the board of aldermen, had restored to office Francis T. McEneny, whom he had removed, because "McEneny has the goods on Mr. McKee."

The exchange of personalities came into the campaign as the two candidates, seeking to overthrow Tammany Hall by defeating Mayor John P. O'Brien, began delving into each other's public records.

McKee, searching LaGuardia's record as president of the board of aldermen years ago, charged his opponent was guilty of the same type of reprisals as Mayor O'Brien, who recently discharged several of the independent candidate's Bronx county backers.

"I shall now refresh Mr. LaGuardia's recollection by showing that he himself was guilty of one of the most serious abuses inherent in political bossism," said McKee.

He charged that LaGuardia, "conceiving his first ambition to run for mayor," discharged Charles Rathfelder, republican leader of the tenth assembly district, for refusing his support, and Frederick Oppikofer had resigned because he could not swing his district for LaGuardia. Rathfelder was an examiner and Oppikofer was LaGuardia's assistant.

Attacking McKee's action in restoring McKee to his office, LaGuardia said that Senator John J. McNaboe, whose support McKee said he would not accept, "knows all about Mr. McKee's knowledge about Mr. McKee." LaGuardia did not elaborate on his charge.

McEneny was removed after figuring in an investigation of the use of advance information in the purchase of school sites by dummy corporations. Restored by McKee, he is now seeking $15,000 in pay lost during the time he was out of office.

LaGuardia, Mayor O'Brien, McKee and Charles Solomon, socialist candidate, appeared on the same platform, addressing the New York League of Business and Professional Women.

U. S. SOON WILL RULE ON LIQUOR ADVERTISING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Attorney-General Cummings expects soon to rule on the legality of liquor advertising in newspapers.

The question is being studied by officials of the justice and postoffice departments.

The Reed amendment to the Webb-Kenyon law prohibited such advertisements if the papers containing them crossed state lines.

Advertisements of this sort have already appeared in several large papers.

SUPPORT OF GRAU REFUSED BY ABC

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT.
HAVANA, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The militant and numerically strong ABC radical secret society, one of the chief supporting factions of the Grau San Martin government when it took control of Cuban affairs, tonight announced it was withdrawing its support from the present leaders.

The announcement caused the belief to spread that a new crisis is facing the regime which succeeded that of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

Armand Rodas, leader of the society, said its members which are heavily armed and supplied with uniforms, are continuing to co-operate with Colonel Fulgencio Batista's army, but reliable reports from other sources said a break was imminent.

Despite the possibility of an early settlement of the month-old strike of Woolworth employees, the labor situation, particularly its communistic features, continued to annoy government officials tonight.

Bakers were still on strike and the shortage of bread was felt in homes and restaurants throughout the capital.

Representatives of the Woolworth company were reported to have had several conferences with Secretary of the Interior Antonio Guiteras and authoritative sources predicted the strike would be settled within 24 hours.

Street car employees decided to abandon their cars tonight in order to attend a meeting of employees at Tropical stadium. They will attempt to settle a controversy among themselves over whether part-time employees should be given regular employment.

At Cardenas, in Matanzas province, a general strike was called at the plant of the International Harvester Company and considerable labor agitation was reported at sugar mills in Banes and Preston, both in Oriente province.

Roosevelt To Assist Foreign Bond Holders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was understood tonight in authoritative administration sources to be ready to set up during the next three days a voluntary, non-governmental organization to aid American investors in collecting defaulted foreign bonds.

The agency, it was said in treasury and diplomatic circles, would be similar to the British council of foreign bondholders and entirely independent of the government, with all its efforts devoted to aiding the owners of bonds of other countries, good and bad. Establishment of the organization as an independent entity was represented as decided on to avoid diplomatic shoals and to prevent any possible unpleasant feeling in debtor countries that might be aroused by governmental direction.

Suspects Identified.

DELAND, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Sheriff S. E. Stone said today that J. L. Grantham, Sparr postmaster and merchant, had identified James McNeely and a man giving his name as Fred Johnson as two of the men who robbed his postoffice and store October 7.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Jack Moody, 22-year-old filling station operator, whose story of a moonlight duel with a mysterious stranger in explanation of a bullet wound in his chest, led to his conviction on a charge of accepting a challenge to duel, today was given a suspended sentence of eight months in police court here.

"Your story was one of the most fantastic I ever heard," Judge Sam Cathey told the youth in passing sentence. He reminded Moody it was his own statement to the police that convicted him.

'Forget-Me-Not' Fund Drive To Be Conducted Here Today

Indorsed by Governor Eugene Talmadge, Mayor James L. Key and other state and city dignitaries, the Forget-Me-Not campaign for the benefit of the disabled American war veterans will be waged on Atlanta streets today.

Members of the Betty Harrison Jones chapter, D. A. V., will sell the flowers all day Friday in an effort to raise funds for the disabled soldiers. Hundreds of volunteer workers will aid the clubwomen.

Money spent to buy the flower of remembrance will be used in emergency cases for the disabled veterans and the sale this year is expected to be especially heavy.

Champagne Christens New U. S. Submarine

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Camhalot, newest of Uncle Sam's submarines, was launched at the Portsmouth navy yard today.

The Camhalot was sponsored by Miss Katharine D. Kempff, daughter of Rear Admiral C. S. Kempff, commander of the navy yard, who broke a bottle of champagne on its bow. This was the first champagne used in the sponsoring of any American naval vessel since the advent of national prohibition.

The submarine is the eighth of nine authorized by congress in the naval building program of 1916. It is 274 feet long, 24 feet, 9 inches wide, and has about the same speed as its predecessors. It has a long radius of action.

FLORIDAN IS HELD IN FATHER'S SLAYING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 19.—(UP)—Henry Lee, 22, was arrested here today in connection with the death of his father, Bartow Lee, a policeman who was under suspension for alleged drunkenness. Death was attributed to a blow on the head. Police said the youth admitted engaging in a fist fight with his father a week ago.

RITCHIE IMPEACHMENT SOUGHT IN LYNCHING

Socialists Accuse Maryland Governor of "Criminal Neglect."

BALTIMORE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—While investigations were launched today into last night's lynching in Princess Anne, a demand was made here for the impeachment of Governor Albert C. Ritchie.

The demand came from the state committee of the socialist party of Maryland in a special meeting. Ritchie was charged with "criminal neglect of duty."

The committee also asked for removal from office of Judge Robert F. Duer and State's Attorney John B. Robins, of Somerset county, and called for their prosecution "on charges of second-degree manslaughter."

The governor was criticized for having permitted the removal to Princess Anne from Baltimore of George Armwood, a negro, held for assaulting an 81-year-old white farm woman.

"Apparently few people understand the governor's authority in such matters," said Ritchie when informed of the socialists' resolution and the general criticism. "So I have asked the attorney-general to set them straight."

"Governor Ritchie had no authority in the matter," said Attorney-General William Preston Lane Jr. "As a matter of fact, under the Maryland law neither did the judge nor the sheriff. There is just one individual responsible for the custody of a prisoner, just one individual that can order his removal, and that's the sheriff."

All Governor Ritchie could do, in fact all anybody except Sheriff Luther Dougherty could do, was to advise the sheriff. And when Sheriff Dougherty came to Baltimore to get that prisoner, he was acting within his rights and neither the governor nor anyone else could stop him. The Maryland law does not give the governor as much authority as some other states."

Armwood was lynched by a mob that stormed the jail and overpowered state police. He was hung to a tree after being dragged behind an automobile through the town's main streets and his gasoline-saturated nude body was burned in front of the courthouse.

The negro was arrested Monday after Mrs. Mary Denston, the farm woman, was attacked near her home in lower Somerset county. Police said Armwood confessed.

He was brought to Baltimore immediately after his arrest but after spending Tuesday in jail here was taken back to Princess Anne.

In placing the blame on Judge Duer and State's Attorney Robins for the lynching, Ritchie said the state's attorney had insisted that Armwood be returned to Somerset county and Judge Duer had assured him the negro would be safe.

INTERSTATE HEAD SEES CHANCE FOR PRECEDENT

Dr. Will W. Alexander, director of the interstate commission, today telephoned Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, to "set challenging precedent to those states further south where officials habitually fail to apprehend and convict members of lynching mobs."

"Maryland has an opportunity to render most valuable service to civilization by indicting and convicting members of the mob at Princess Anne," Dr. Alexander said, in his message. "Such action would set challenging precedent to those states further south where officials habitually fail to apprehend and convict members of lynching mobs, even when confronted as at present with marked increase of mob violence."

The Commission on Interracial Cooperation consists of leading members of the white and negro races and works for the mutual interests of both. It has taken a leading part in fighting lynching, not only in the south but throughout the United States.

Johnson Aids Well Pleased With Progress Under NRA

Textile Industry's Recommendation for Factory Control Inspires New Confidence.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(UP)—NRA officials were elated tonight over the recommendation of the cotton textile industry committee for strict control of expansion of manufacturing capacity in textile plants.

These recommendations have been approved by General Johnson. Under them no new installations of machinery in cotton textile mills, except replacements, may be made without certificates of authority from him.

This decision governing the cotton textile industry goes to the heart of the problem of overproduction as seen around NRA headquarters. In many industries plant capacity is so overbuilt that even at the 1929 consumption rate the public could not buy all that could be produced.

Willingness of the cotton textile industry to recognize the dangers of overdevelopment and co-operate with NRA in holding plant capacity within some relation to probable consumption is regarded here as an important contribution.

It is particularly welcome at this time because murmurs of criticism have been floating in.

Today, for example, former Governor Neville, of Nebraska, chairman of NRA in holding plant capacity within some relation to probable consumption is regarded here as an important contribution.

The case was given to the jury at noon today after three and one-half days of testimony and argument, during which Higginbotham took the stand to deny shooting Lamberth, radio entertainer.

The case was given to the jury at noon today after three and one-half days of testimony and argument, during which Higginbotham took the stand to deny shooting Lamberth, radio entertainer.

In Philadelphia the cleaners and dyers association went into court against three member firms who allegedly had failed to comply with a price-setting agreement. The defense contended that the agreement conflicted with state laws, to which the association replied that state law should be subject to suspension during the NRA emergency.

The Chicago Daily News in an editorial said that developments in the last two days have endangered the rights of a free press and imperiled the recovery program. The editorial referred to the president's executive order providing fines and jail sentences for Blue Eagle violators. It also asserted attempts had been made by NRA to "censor or suppress" reports of proceedings under the NRA in Washington.

This apparently referred to the exclusion of a writer of confidential trade information letters who was barred from General Johnson's press conference. In defense, NRA attaches pointed out that the barred writer was not representing any newspaper or press association.

To many here it is apparent that NRA is passing through its most critical period. Yet with about 3,000,000 persons re-employed and the volume of wages raised by 20 per cent, recovery officials believe sound progress is being made.

Many of the criticisms now being leveled at NRA arise from the difficulty in quickly re-educating a large number of persons to a new point of view. Fundamental in that new viewpoint is the principle emphasized by Senator Wagner, one of the authors of the recovery act, who said in the address this week:

"The recovery program regards all industry as existing primarily for the service of the public. Profits, well deserved though they may be, are incidental to this. There is nothing new in this concept. For many years the most responsible owners of great wealth have held that the excess funds which they have withdrawn from their industries are trusts which they ought to administer for the benefit of the public. Since this is true of the surplus earnings of industry, it is certainly true of the industries themselves, upon which millions of people depend for their livelihood."

"These then are the cardinal rules for the management of business under the recovery program: Co-operation, maximum production, fair distribution, and the dedication of business to the public welfare. Practically everyone understands these principles and there is very little disagreement about them."

It is in translating the principles into action that the difficulties arise.

BALL PLAYER'S FATE IN HANDS OF JURY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A Jefferson county jury retired at 11 o'clock tonight without returning a verdict in the case of Clarence Higginbotham, 26-year-old professional baseball player charged with murder in the slaying of William Lamberth, radio entertainer.

The case was given to the jury at noon today after three and one-half days of testimony and argument, during which Higginbotham took the stand to deny shooting Lamberth, radio entertainer.

Negro Voodoo Doctor Casts Spell Against Policeman at Valdosta

By JOE DAVIS.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—"Dat ole conjure man" negro man-mies refer to in frightening their offspring into quiet is after Patrolman Emory B. Dampier, veteran officer of the local police force.

Recently the officer learned that a negro voodoo "doctor" was irate against him, and apparently was trying to cause him trouble.

On several occasions he found traces of an evil smelling liquid poured about his door during the night, and a time or two he has heard persons prowling about the house during the early morning hours.

He also has learned from informants among the more enlightened negroes that a "fortune teller," a strange negro here, as predicting dire mishaps for him.

The officer, despite the gloomy predictions and the dread in which the curses of the voodooes are held by south Georgia negroes, is undaunted, and has issued a warning that he'll do a little "doctoring" himself if he catches anyone prowling about his home.

"I'll just stack my birdshot against any charm they can conjure up against me," he said.

The "conjure men" are greatly feared by negroes in the community in which they live and affect a mode of living that adds weirdness to their lives.

Practically all practice certain strange rites while other negroes are looking on, and they always go about armed with charms, and intricately carved walking canes.

U. D. C. Gives Service Crosses To Dr. S. V. Sanford and Son

Unusual Presentation at Close of Convention; Mrs. T. W. Reed Chosen President.

By GLENN RAMSEY.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Father and son, Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia, and Dr. Shelton P. Sanford, of Savannah, tonight received crosses of service from the Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Crosses are awarded by the U. D. C. to sons of veterans who have distinguished service to the cause of the rapidly thinning hosts of gray but on this occasion the presentation extended to another generation.

It was the first time the Georgia division had honored simultaneously the son and grandson of a veteran. The occasion was more unusual because Dr. S. V. Sanford's father was a captain in the Confederacy, the university president a captain in the Spanish-American War and his son a captain in the World War.

The presentation of the crosses was a highlight of the historical program marking the close of the annual three-day convention of the U. D. C. Many gowns dating back to the days of the Confederacy were worn by the members of the patriotic organization in the annual showing of the old-style dress.

Mrs. T. W. Reed, wife of the long-time registrar of the University of Georgia, was elevated from the first vice presidency to the presidency of the Georgia division late in the day. She succeeds Mrs. Izzie Bashinski, of Dublin, who served two years as president.

Other officers elected:

Mrs. Frank A. Dennis, of Eatonton, first vice president.

Mrs. A. Frank Matthews, of Atlanta, second vice president.

Mrs. N. M. Jordan, of Tennille, third vice president.

Mrs. John Lawrence McCord, of Atlanta, division editor.

Mrs. Otis L. Chivers, custodian of crosses.

Mrs. C. S. Hodges, of Bainbridge, auditor.

Mrs. M. W. Lowry, of Athens, corresponding secretary.

Other officers hold over for another year.

There was only one contest that required a ballot, Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, of Atlanta, requiring a vote to decide the office of auditor.

Mrs. Reed, the new president, was head of her home chapter, the Laura Rutherford, organized in 1896. She has been a member for 34 years and during that time has served almost continuously as an officer.

In 1928 and 1929 she served as chairman of the education committee of the Georgia division and served as chairman general of education by appointment of the president general in 1931-32. She has served as president of the local Legion auxiliary and as chaplain of the department of Georgia of the auxiliary.

The next convention will be held at Griffin and the board meeting in January at Elberton.

NEW AIR LINE PROGRAM LAUNCHED AT AUGUSTA

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A movement to secure greater federal support in establishing air lines in the south was under way here today, backed by prominent local men and M. O. Dunning, of Savannah, chairman of the Coastal States Co-ordinated.

The plan embodies organization of seven southeastern states, Mr. Dunning said, to place a co-ordinated movement at the disposal of our senators and congressmen where they can function in a practical way in getting for the south the aeronautical recognition to which it is entitled.

Mayor W. D. Jennings, of Augusta, vice president of the Coastal States Co-ordinated, was named temporary chairman of the new air line movement. The plan calls for appointment of an aeronautical committee of five members from each city to attend a state conference. These committees will choose a commission of five men to represent the state in aeronautical deliberations.

"The south is not getting its share of federal appropriations for the development of airports," Mr. Dunning said, and "the only way to get this is for the south to consolidate and fight for it."

Local Leadership Training Is Pledged for University

Weltner Outlines New Aims of System Before
District High School
Conference.

COCHRAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Chancellor Philip Weltner in an address before a district high school conference here today pledged the university system of Georgia to a program of local leadership development.

He said it was a waste of money to give a student schooling which "did nothing to make him aware of the possibilities of his immediate environment and if it did nothing to inculcate in him a sense of responsibility for developing his powers by promoting the welfare of his community."

He said education as practiced today "is too much of a mechanism of escape, tending as much or more to send the student away from his own country seeking his own place in life as to keep him at home for the development of that place."

As the first move toward carrying out the program of local leadership development, the chancellor said, the university system is shifting the emphasis from individual service to community organization in its agricultural and home economics extension service. He cited the town of Ivanhoe, in

Withlacoochee River
Yields 78 Lb. Turtle

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Material for several bowls of turtle soup was in the possession of five Lowndes county citizens today. They went fishing in the Withlacoochee river near here and caught a loggerhead turtle weighing 78 pounds and measuring four and one-half feet from tip to tip.

It took the combined efforts of the five, Parrish, Bernice and Dorell Davis, Harvey Hardee and Louis Parramore to land the turtle, one of the largest ever caught in this section.

Bulloch county, as an example of the success of the new plan.

"Our county agent serves there as the community's counsel," he said. "The community does the job. A program of joint marketing was established by trucks on schedule time; a community warehouse was built where produce is graded and packed. A canner and meat curing plant were set up. The agricultural program was diversified to support these community enterprises. The social life of the community was enriched. A telephone system has been installed. The community's economic base has been broadened and given strength. All we did was to encourage local initiative and enterprise. The demonstration at Ivanhoe has been duplicated with equal success at other points."

He said there was a lack of teachers equal to the task of building up such programs around their schools, and of local lay leadership to carry them on—a lack which the university system would strive to remedy.

Such an effort, the chancellor said, is being carried out at the new Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College for farm boys and girls who plan to return to the farm. A fundamental part of the program there, he said, is development for local leadership, and instruction in the science of "rebuilding an agricultural civilization."

To help draw into the program the teachers already in service, Weltner said, the university system has inaugurated a new venture at the South Georgia Teachers' College, which offers to such teachers the opportunity to leave their schools while still continuing to draw their pay, and come to the normal for a full quarter while senior students from the college substitute for them.

LUMPKIN MAN IS 94 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

LUMPKIN, Ga., Oct. 19.—On Friday E. P. Pearson, of Lumpkin, will celebrate his ninety-fourth birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Wood, here. Mr. Pearson was born in Muscogee county in 1839, his parents moving to Stewart county when he was a small child. He has since made his home in this county, and in Lumpkin since 1886.

He entered the War Between the States in the second Georgia regiment, later transferred to the seventeenth Georgia regiment, and served under General Longstreet.

He has voted in 19 presidential elections, each time voting the straight democratic ticket. His first vote in a presidential election was cast after he became of age, in 1858, when Breckinridge was the democratic candidate against Lincoln. He voted for Roosevelt in the last presidential election.

Mr. Pearson was one of the charter members of Cross Lodge No. 173, F. & A. M., Lumpkin, and is now the only surviving charter member of this lodge.

SCREW WORMS TAKEN FROM NEGRESS' HEAD

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Through the efforts of approximately one hundred screw worms from the passages in the facial and head region of a negro woman, named Patsy Robinson in this county, local physicians have established beyond doubt the fact screw worms do attack humans, and apparently multiply with great rapidity as in cases where cows, hogs and other live stock are attacked.

The victim of the attack here was discovered at her home just outside the city limits of Thomasville by Miss Alice Hall, district nurse, who immediately brought the woman to the office of Dr. H. M. Moore, local head specialist, for treatment. The worms and removed the worms. The work was done in the presence of nearly all physicians of this city who had been called in to view the case.

The negress is now apparently recovering from her experience with but little ill effects, it is stated. The attending physician stated that such infestation was very dangerous and that had the case not been discovered in time, the screw worms might have bored into the blood vessels causing death of the victim.

GEORGIAN IS KILLED WHEN PIPE BREAKS

KELSEY CITY, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—J. K. Heard, 32, one-armed R. F. C. worker, was killed today when a piece of pipe he was using as a lever broke in his hand and he died before he could be admitted to a hospital.

Despite his lack of an arm, Heard had been doing R. F. C. work for a year. He was a native of Franklin, Ga., and leaves his father, O. W. Heard, of Congress, Ga.

Waycross Commission Votes License on Beer

WAYCROSS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The city commission, which earlier this year voted down a proposal to license beer dealers here, has reversed its stand and imposed a license tax for both retail and wholesale dealers in malt beverages. The action permits sale of beer here so far as municipal law is concerned. The commission passed by a vote of three to two an ordinance taxing wholesalers $100 and retailers $25. Commissioners A. O. Johnson and M. M. Monroe and Mayor L. E. Harrell voted for the ordinance. Commissioners H. S. Redding and S. T. Wright cast their votes against the measure, stating it was directly contrary to state laws.

The three supporting commissioners held that beer was being sold promiscuously and beer dealers were evading license taxes.

CATTLE RAISERS FORM ASSOCIATION AT MACON

Greater Beef Production and Better Markets Aims of Organization.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Cattlemen of the state met here today and created the Georgia Beef Cattle Raisers' Association for the purpose of encouraging the raising of more and better beef and providing better markets for the home-grown product.

Colonel W. B. Hutchinson, owner and operator of the Colonial plantation near Albany, was elected president; Colonel E. B. Weatherly, Cochran, vice president; Perry Lunsford, of Covington, secretary and treasurer.

These officers will serve until the first annual convention of the association, to be held the second Tuesday in February, the place to be decided later. They were empowered to obtain a charter and make other necessary preparations for formal organization of the association.

Under plans adopted in the meeting, membership in the association will be open to any farmer or farm operator who raises as many as five head of beef cattle annually, and the annual membership fee will be $3. Association expenses will be confined mainly to sending notices and information to members.

Frank R. Romans, of Atlanta, editor of the Southern Cultivator, presided over the meeting until election of the officers. About 15 cattle raisers were in attendance, and Romans said cards from more than 50 others in all parts of the state, promising cooperation. He said probably more than 300 members can be obtained by activities of the leaders.

In a short talk the farm paper editor said research he has recently made revealed that at one time, in the preceding century, Georgia was the second state of the Union in cattle raising. He predicted a return to that rank through full development of the movement back to cattle already begun by Georgia farmers.

HOUSING PROJECT BATTLE FORESEEN

Leaders of Opposition
Announce Action Planned Within Few Days.

Plans for fighting against and for carrying on the $4,000,000 development of the Techwood Flats area were being discussed by opponents and proponents in Atlanta Thursday. Leaders of the opposition announced that definite action would be taken within a few days in an attempt to stop the project.

A confidential meeting of apartment house owners was held at the offices of Leopold Haas Thursday afternoon and the first official meeting of the directors of Techwood, Inc., is scheduled to be held in the office of Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Palmer Issues Statement.

C. F. Palmer, Atlanta capitalist who is acting chairman of the directors of Techwood, Inc., issued a statement Thursday in which he declared apartment house owners of Atlanta were either misinformed as to the intentions of the project or else were ignorant of the facts.

"The development which will erect 600 new apartment units in the Techwood area is as much a part of President Roosevelt's New Deal as the NRA, and make no mistake about it," Mr. Palmer said.

Atlanta proponents of the slum clearing development were informed Thursday that promissory notes of the Techwood Flats project, similar to Atlanta's for the Tennessee city, Adolf S. Ochs, general manager of the Chattanooga Times, George F. Milton, president of the Chattanooga News, and others have been named on the committee to investigate obtaining the government loan for Chattanooga.

Committees Formed.

Mr. Haas said the group of apartment house owners are now engaged in studying methods of preventing the building of the new apartments, which he said, will cause an even greater loss to the present private owners. Committees are being formed to present "the other side of the picture" to the city and governmental officials, he asserted.

"These great housing projects, now under way in many cities as in Atlanta, are not designed for those who can afford to live in the buildings of the apartment house owners in the 'slum' districts of our cities," Mr. Palmer stated.

"They are planned to give the skilled workman and his family a new deal in two ways, by affording work, and second, to remove him and his family from a tenement house which should have been demolished long ago, and places them in the most modern fire-proof buildings which present day science can design, including proper sanitation and play ground areas for those children who are now forced to play in the streets," his statement said.

More NRA Complaints Aired by Committee

Working with dispatch, the Atlanta NRA compliance board met Thursday in its second session to hear complaints and petitions for exceptions from codes and agreements, and disposed of approximately 100 cases, according to D. B. Lasseter, contact man for the board. The meeting was closed and nothing as to the nature of complaints and petitions was given out.

THOMAS P. HARRIS, 90, CONFEDERATE VET, DIES

Thomas P. Harris, 90 years of age, a veteran of the Confederate army, died Thursday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. O. R. Standard, at 20 Little street. He was a member of the Tige Anderson Lodge No. 1455, United Confederate Veterans, and a member of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at Spring Hill. Dr. W. H. Major will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery, with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

Mr. Harris was born in Spartanburg, S. C., in 1843. He served under General Johnston in the War Between the States and later in life was active in the cotton business in Hartwell, Ga.

Surviving Mr. Harris are his wife, Mrs. Carrie Harris; five daughters, Mrs. Standard, Mrs. C. F. Allen, of Copperhill, Tenn.; Mrs. Arthur Abell, and Miss Gladys Harris, of New York city, and three sons, P. V. Harris, of Charlotte, N. C., and K. P. and N. B. Harris, of Atlanta.

KY. CENTENARIAN DIES DIGGING GRAVE

MOREHEAD, Ky., Oct. 19.—(P)—Joe Crawford, 100-year-old recluse, has marked the last cross on calendars he used to keep track of the days, months and years.

Today his body rested in a grave he started digging last week when he told a neighbor he felt ill. He never completed the task, but friends who found his body after a search following his disappearance finished it for him and buried him in a home-made casket.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men
Unless two pints of bile juices flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your system. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an unattractive, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.
But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juices will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juices is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. Refuse "something just as good" for it may gripe, loosen teeth or sour stomach. Martinelli, Swarthout Arrive For Atlanta Concert Tonight

By BEN COOPER.

Gladys Swarthout, contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will swing the full glow of those million candle power brown eyes into the lens of a movie camera this winter before she starts the season in a revival of "Linda di Chamounix" with Lily Pons, she confided Thursday on arrival in Atlanta to appear at 8:30 o'clock tonight in concert with Giovanni Martinelli, tenor of the "Met," at the city auditorium.

Miss Swarthout was reticent to reveal the name of the motion picture company or the nature of the picture, except to say that she will sing. The young lady from Deepwater, Mo., who became interested in the singing business at the age of 13 because she wanted to show a chorist in a Kansas City (Mo.) Methodist church "how to hold the music," made her first appearance in Atlanta during the last season of the Metropolitan in this city.

Martinelli, an "old-timer" in Atlanta opera, made a grand entrance into the Biltmore, around which centers much of the tradition and legend of the horseshoe circle of this city. The stage was all set. In the lobby were Miss Swarthout and her party when Martinelli, benton to the Biltmore from Brookwood station, swung in under a full head of steam, bushy gray hair framing a genial face all broken out with a tooth-showing smile.

Martinelli ran smack into an ambush of newspapermen and photographers, who kept him from bolting to his room with the assurance that "it will be only another moment." Once cornered, Martinelli talked freely, and informed a lady interviewer that his hobby is to "be a good boy and go to heaven." Martinelli, who is the Tenor of the Metropolitan, will wind up his concert tour in San Francisco for a month with an opera company before returning to New York for the season of the Metropolitan.

Miss Swarthout confessed that her hobby is "my home." She is athletic, indulging a great deal in horseback riding and other sports, and bubbling over with health and vitality, although she admitted that the long ride from New York was tiring.

Nazi Threat Assailed By Institute Speaker

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 19.—(P)—The German situation was brought to the fore in Wednesday's session of the Institute of International Affairs being held at the College of William and Mary with speakers explaining the international status of Germany, defending the French and asserting that Great Britain can "prevent a new war by taking a firm stand against the dangers of Hitlerism."

Robert Valeur, of Columbia University, likened France to the United States if Canada and Mexico were hostile and added: "But France is expected to disarm while the United States increases its appropriation for the navy."

He said Germany has not used the proper diplomacy or tactfulness in approaching France and that every French concession has been followed by "a more exacting German demand presented in a most antagonizing tone."

Modification to permit employers and employees to obtain efficiency standards is also sought by the southern association, McKelvey said, adding that this did not mean introduction of the "stretch-out" system, but that "the employee would have no further responsibility with the exception of speeding up his operations, which we contend is justified in that the employee is receiving a wage 50 and 100 per cent greater."

SOUTHERNERS DECLARE GARMENT CODE UNFAIR

Plan Discriminates Against
Manufacturers in Dixie,
Leader Asserts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(P)—W. Gordon McKelvey, secretary of the Southern Garment Manufacturers Association, Inc., said today the proposed code for garment manufacturers "is unreasonably and unnecessarily discriminatory against southern manufacturers."

Here to present his protests to NRA, McKelvey said members of the southern group had asserted adoption of the code would mean "complete annihilation" of the industry in the south.

Principal objections of the southern association members, McKelvey said, dealt with labor classifications, minimum wage scales, "vast monopolistic powers" they believe are conferred on eastern and northern manufacturers, and to the exclusion of Kentucky from the status of a southern state under the code.

Southern manufacturers, he continued, do not have a supply of potential skilled labor, but draw their laborers from the farms and cotton fields, giving them a training course which entails "a loss to the management for a period of several weeks."

As a result, he said, they are asking a training period of 60 days, with a minimum wage based on actual earnings, in no case to be less than 50 per cent of the minimum wage paid skilled employees; and that "10 per cent of all manufacturing employees be allowed as tolerance" in this classification.

The proposed code offered by the International Association of Garment Manufacturers provides a training period of six weeks, this provision to expire three months after the code was adopted; a tolerance of 5 per cent, and not less than 75 per cent of the minimum wage to this class of employees.

The southern group, he said, also asks a 10 per cent tolerance for aged employees, to be paid on a basis of actual earnings when they are unable to produce enough to earn the minimum wage.

"If this is not granted," he added, "many old employees will be placed on charity, meaning the elimination of two 50 per cent efficient employees and the employment of one efficient employee. The I. A. G. M. code provides for 5 per cent of these employees, no discount in minimum wage."

Modification to permit employers and employees to obtain efficiency standards is also sought by the southern association, McKelvey said, adding that this did not mean introduction of the "stretch-out" system, but that "the employee would have no further responsibility with the exception of speeding up his operations, which we contend is justified in that the employee is receiving a wage 50 and 100 per cent greater."

In Georgia's Fields and Streams

TEETH.

"In the placental mammals, the occlusion of the carnassials is always P4 over M1, although there is a distinction in the marsupialia, which in a carnivorous adaptation, show an occlusion of a similarly modified tooth of M1 over M2."

I opened my eyes at this point to find that I had been sleeping in my living room and not in a lecture room. The picture of my professor of comparative anatomy vanished, but the words that I had dreamed over were firmly imprinted somewhere in the cerebral cortex that passes for my brain. Out beyond the blaze of my reading lamp, somewhere in space, I watched mental images form, fade and merge and saw in brief the evolutionary story of mammalian molar teeth. I saw the teeth of the earliest mammals form from the simple, single-pointed teeth of the late reptiles that were rulers of the Mesozoic. These simple teeth fused by threes and there came to be the teeth of the early beasts with fur; three cusps, in linear order, usually with the middle one highest. This picture is strikingly like the teeth of our common possum. Then I saw the two outer cusps begin a gradual shifting toward one side of the jaw and rise to the level of the taller cusp, giving the primitive tribuccular type of tooth.

Following this there came to be a sectorial edge between the outer cusps, as the inner one (in the lower jaw) became reduced and finally rudimentary. A sort of sulcate heel appeared now and I saw in my mind the carnassial tooth of a dog, wolf, lion or weasel; the tooth that definitely marks a skull as belonging to a flesh-eating animal. The carnassial tooth—a subject for an epic, an example of modification for a single purpose, with a parallel in both primitive and modern mammals. In the upper jaw, as stated in my dream of that long-past lecture, the tooth is the fourth premolar, while in the lower jaw it is the first molar.

Regardless of whether you agree with Herluff Winge, or Cope, or Osborn, the carnassial tooth is the first molar.

EMPLOYEES ADMIT PRIMARY POLITICS

'Improper Conduct' Charges, However, De- nied Before Probers.

Municipal employees at a hearing Thursday night admitted they engaged in politics, that they prepared a preferential list of candidates carrying the names of five seeking the aldermanic nomination, that they used a municipally owned mimeograph to print the list, but denied improper conduct or that the stationery used was furnished by taxpayers. The hearing was conducted by the municipal building committee of council.

Featured by frequent clashes between Alderman-Designate Ellis B. Barrett, who said he represented Atlanta taxpayers, and W. Paul Carpenter, representing the city employees, Mayor James L. Key's executive secretary, and W. Evans Chambers, city survey expert, the hearing lasted about four hours. The issue of the prosecution was leveled at Arnold and Chambers.

Barrett was balked in his efforts to obtain checks from the city for a campaign chest presided over by Arnold when Carpenter said Arnold could not be compelled to furnish evidence intended to incriminate himself and the municipal buildings committee, headed by Councilman John A. White, sustained Carpenter's contentions.

Chambers admitted readily that he ordered the list prepared: Mrs. Ruby Johnson, Chambers' employee, admitted she prepared the list during her lunch hour; Arnold denied he knew the list was being prepared but under examination by Ellis said he provided Chambers with certain funds, declining to specify sums furnished.

Failure of Barrett to procure the checks for scrutiny of the committee was a blow to the prosecution of the complaints that employees engaged in improper practices during the September 20 primary.

Barrett also balked in his efforts to show the number of clerks and managers who were employed to aid Arnold when checks were not forthcoming.

C. E. Fraser, twelfth ward election clerk, attacked Barrett's insinuation that payment of $10 to him by Arnold was improper. Fraser said he did all his work prior to election day, and resented any imputation of anything irregular in the transaction.

The buildings and grounds committee voted to reinstate Walker Lee suspended on charges, but will carry a recommendation to council that the position of assistant superintendent of buildings, held by Lee, be abolished and that the assistant to L. Glenn Dewberry, superintendent, be elected by the committee.

Lee denied that he was drunk or drinking on duty as charged in unknown statements.

Why Teethina Makes Babies Well Quicker

Teethina is more than a laxative. Aside from thoroughly, but gently evacuating baby's intestines, it purifies and sweetens the bowels, prevents food fermentation and stops decomposition of fecal matter in the entire intestinal tract. That is why Teethina gives such quick and remarkable relief in constipation, gas, indigestion, occasional diarrhoea and intestinal colic. Teethina contains no opiates and can be had at any drug store for only 30c.—(adv.)

NEBRASKANS REBEL AGAINST ROOSEVELT

from Montana at the annual convention of the Farmers' Union.

Governor Floyd B. Olson, of Minnesota, while rejecting the embargo plan, said the farmers' plight was pitiful and something must be done. He urged federal control of production and marketing, and federal price-fixing.

TWO NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS BOLT ROOSEVELT ON NRA

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Revolt against the NRA broke out in Nebraska, home of insurgent political leaders, today.

Two of its leading democrats bolted President Roosevelt's relief program and joined the veteran republican independent, Senator George W. Norris, in warnings of unrest among farmers.

Governor Charles W. Bryan said the farmers' throat was being "cut from both ears" by abandonment of anti-trust laws and declining farm prices. He urged inflation instead of "pouring money in at the top."

Governor Bryan came out flatly for currency inflation by redeeming Liberty bonds and paying the soldiers' bonus with new money, but Norris declined to comment on the extension of his suggestion for inflation to include the bonus payment.

A former governor, Keith Neville, announced his resignation as state NRA chairman because of lack of sympathy with its program in agricultural territory and said price changes had produced virtually a "buyers' strike" among farmers.

The statements from the leaders of two opposing wings of Nebraska democracy and from men who have twice opposed each other for governor came on the heels of Senator Norris' second appeal to Roosevelt to inflate the currency by retiring $1,500,000, 100 of liberty bonds with new currency instead of refunding them.

Another democratic leader, Congressman E. R. Burke, expressed regret at Bryan's criticism of the recovery program and said he knew the president would throw the force of his administration behind any move to help the farmer.

Bryan described the farmers' attitude as "seething unrest," adding that appeals of taxpayers' organizations asking aid for the farmers did not exaggerate the situation. He requested an additional $400,000 federal relief allotment for the state.

"The farmer is rapidly losing confidence because he sees the price of everything he buys going up, while the price of everything he sells is daily going the other direction," Senator Norris said.

Neville commented that the NRA in agricultural states had increased the cost of everything the farmer buys although "the price of agricultural products, including live stock in Nebraska today is less than it was in the case when the program went into effect."

Previously Deflated.

C. S. Sorenson, former state attorney general and once campaign manager for Senator Norris, in a letter to Henry Morgenthau Jr., farm credit head, said he didn't ask appraisers to wear rose-colored glasses but I do suggest that they throw away their smoked ones." He said farm values were deflated in 1921 and new appraisals should not assume farm values were up like stock values in 1929.

Governor Bryan took the position that payment of the bonus in new money was the "only remedy so far in sight, as everything else tried has failed." Payment of the bonus, he said, "would have the merit of putting the money into circulation in every precinct in the United States to pay grocery bills and come up through the butcher and the baker, who cannot be relieved by pouring money in the top of the financial structure."

Merchants Threatened.

From Neville also came a warning that the NRA was threatening merchants in farmer territory with bankruptcy because of inadequate farm purchasing power. He said only an increase of buying power through a comprehensive public works program or higher farm prices could save thousands of small merchants although their response to the NRA's request to put men to work had been "wonderful."

"I feel that the government has been very derelict in meeting its obligation to put men to work," Neville said, in explaining he felt persons in sympathy with the program should administer it.

Bryan's request for $400,000 in relief money to carry the state's needy through November followed a study of the Nebraska situation by Rowland Haynes, federal relief agent, and state relief officials.

The farm price concern also was emphasized at the annual convention of the Nebraska Farmers' Elevator Association in Omaha where R. Morrison, of Chappell, president of the group and head of the country's largest co-operative elevators, even prices of last March would be a help.

HIGHER PROCESS TAX APPEARS FOR WHEAT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Definite prospects appeared today for a substantial boost in the processing tax on wheat, levied at the rate of 20 cents a bushel since July 9 with sentiment for the increase gaining much headway among farm adjustment administration officials.

It was reliably reported that a continuation of the recent weakness in wheat prices while consumers costs climb upward would be certain to result in a higher levy within six weeks.

The increase may come sooner, but administration officials first want to know if the current price slump is of a temporary nature. Some of them were impressed by today's strength at market centers, with buying in Chicago sending the grain up 12 cents above Tuesday's close.

R. F. C. POST TAKEN BY RYBURN G. CLAY

Officials here consider that the state's constitutional limitations on loans may prevent the institutions in Georgia from making the loans because they need the approval of the state banking superintendent, while others believe all that will be needed is the approval of the superintendent, R. P. Gormley, and that the loans will be made to the banks themselves.

The plan, however, will affect a number of banks in Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida and that part of Tennessee which lies in the sixth district.

Mr. Clay is one of the best known bankers in the southeast. He has served as a member of the public works advisory commission since it was established last summer and in 1932 was chairman of the democratic campaign fund drive in his state.

Because his new post carries no salary, Mr. Clay can continue to serve on the public works board.

ACCEPTANCE OF POSITION CONFIRMED BY BANKER

Ryburn G. Clay, president of the Fulton National bank, Thursday confirmed dispatches from Washington announcing his acceptance of an appointment as sixth district chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's deposit liquidating committee.

Mr. Clay said that he would name a committee to work with him in a day or two and that he would act as quickly as possible to obtain loans for the closed banks in this area which are participating in the R. F. C. liquidation program.

WESTERN FARMERS CALL STRIKE ON SELLING

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The farm revolt flared anew tonight with the National Farm Holiday Association issuing a national farm strike call effective at noon Saturday.

A secret meeting of directors of the association drafted the proclamation designed for release Friday afternoon which laid down the following ultimatum to the nation:

"We will pay no taxes or interest until we have first cared for our families."

"We will pay no interest-bearing debts until we receive the cost of production."

"We will buy only that which completely necessities demands."

"We will stay in the homes which we now occupy."

"We will not sell our products unless we receive the cost of production, but will exchange our products with labor and the unemployed for the things we need on the farm, on the basis of cost of production for high parties."

The directors decreed that the strike "will remain in operation until our farm products bring the cost of production and until we are refinanced under the terms of the Frazier bill."

The association directors declared the "monied interests of the country, in their judgment, still dominate the government," their confidence in which was lost, "not by any single act, but by a long series of acts."

"We ask for the refutation of the currency, that is, to increase the amount of money in circulation to our normal standard."

STANDARD OIL MERGER DEFINITELY CANCELLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A statement from the Standard Oil Company of California said tonight negotiations for a merger with Standard Oil Company of New Jersey were definitely off.

The statement gave no reason for abandonment of the scheme for combining the two giant companies of the eastern and western seaboard. It was signed by K. R. Kingsbury, president of the California Standard, and W. C. Teagle, president of the New Jersey company.

NEW PRISON WORK WILL BE SPEEDED

Construction of Bridges Also To Start Shortly, Says Governor Talmadge

Governor Eugene Talmadge said Thursday that he expected work to be started immediately on the state's new $1,300,000 prison in Tattall county and that work on three bridges, all self-liquidating, would get under way shortly.

The governor made the statement on his return from Washington where he conferred with Public Works Administrator Ickes Wednesday and entered into an agreement with the federal government whereby the United States will retain title to the projects until lease rentals paid by the state have returned to the treasury of the federal government 70 per cent of their total cost.

The governor said that the contracts for the four projects will be drawn up immediately and that work would start as soon as they were formally signed. He said the matter probably would be handled in a few days.

One of the bridges will be constructed over the Ocmulgee river between Douglas and McRae. The bridges over the Savannah river will link Lincoln and McCormick, S. C., and Sylvania and Allendale, S. C.

"I believe that approval of these projects has broken the ice and in the future we will find a way to get around Georgia's limitations on the borrowing powers of the state and its cities and counties," the governor said. "It has been shown that there is a way for Georgia to share in the public works fund and doubtless we will get some other projects approved."

The governor said that he discussed with Mr. Ickes the building program of the board of regents of the university system and that he was "hopeful" that the federal government would approve it.

Attorney-General Teomans who accompanied the governor to Washington also conferred with Mr. Ickes on the university building program.

YORKTOWN CELEBRATES 152D ANNIVERSARY

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The 152d anniversary of the American victory at Yorktown was celebrated here today.

Reviewing the Shows

'I'm No Angel' Is Held Over at Paramount

The sensational new Mae West film, "I'm No Angel," has been held over at the Paramount theater by popular demand. Because thousands of Atlanta fans were unable to get in to see the first week of the showing at the Fox, and thousands of others desire to see this picture again and again, the Paramount is glad to revise its schedule and to hold this dynamic picture over beginning Friday and to run it through all next week.

"I'm No Angel" seems destined to break the box office record of all times. Mae West's first picture, "She Done Him Wrong," is very near to the mark now; but "I'm No Angel" has already proven to be even more popular and sensational.

In "I'm No Angel," Mae West gives a splendid performance—she portrays a colorful character, Tina, a hard-boiled carnival dancer who becomes a New York sensation. On her rise to fame and fortune, she vamps a number of men, finally ending up besieged by her "tall, dark and handsome" society millionaire.

She sings five sensational songs, dances the "midway," wears lovely clothes, and scintillates with wit in a hilarious courtroom scene.

As a special attraction Bob Hess presents "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" The short features include Vincent Lopez and his band, a Screen Souvenir, and the popular Fox Movie-tone News.

'Night Flight' at Grand Has Superlative Cast

Again Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who gave us "Grand Hotel" and "Dinner at Eight," presents a superlative cast in a famous story. The French novel, "Night Flight," was equally distinguished in France and in English-speaking countries. Laurence Brown, himself an ardent aviator, was selected to direct the film version of this romance of commercial aviation, and a magnificent cast was chosen.

In "Night Flight" are to be seen John and Lionel Barrymore, Helen Hayes, Clark Gable, Robert Montgomery, Myrna Loy and William Gargan, among others.

"Night Flight" is a very human and very moving production. Its principal figure is Riviere (John Barrymore), head of a great aviation company in South America. Under his implacable rule, airplanes fly from one end of the continent to another, over mountains and jungles and waste places. When a plane falls, Riviere is grieved, deeply stricken, but he knows he must never show his grief. To show it would inspire fear in his pilots, and they must be fearless.

Riviere's assistant is Robineau (Lionel Barrymore) and he is inclined to be friendly with the pilots. He dines with one of them (Robert Montgomery) and his chief severely rebukes him, knowing that, to maintain discipline, the pilots must see their superiors in business as harsh and demanding persons.

Riviere has instituted night flights, to speed up service in his company, and Fabian (Clark Gable) is one of the victims of the dangerous journeys through the night. He wrestles to bring his plane through a storm while his wife (Helen Hayes) tremulously awaits his homecoming.

Myrna Loy is another waiting wife, and William Gargan is her husband—a Brazilian pilot whose night flights are perilous and always an anxious problem for the company.

Chevalier's Picture, 'Way to Love,' at Fox

Maurice Chevalier in his new picture, "The Way to Love," comes to the Fox theater today, as feature attraction of the new program which will run for two weeks, through next Thursday. Chevalier was never finer than in this production in which he plays the role of a humble citizen of the poorer quarter of Paris, a quarter he knows well because it was there he was born and grew up. He is supported by a splendid cast with Ann Dvorak as the leading lady, Edward Everett Horton as a large contributor of laughs, and Minna Gombel, Arthur Pierson, Blanche Frederici and others in important roles.

The great French star sings a number of new songs and generally caravans through the picture with an abandon and verve that shows he revels in this type of story. Of course there is plenty of romance as well as fun and music and there is a little white dog just as cunning in a canine way as Baby Letty in his infantile way in "Bedtime Story."

In addition to the feature there is another exceptional attraction on the new Fox program.

Jimmy Beers and the stage and electrical experts have gotten together and made a marvelous production based upon the "Indian Love Call." As Jimmy plays it in special arrangement on the great organ, the orchestra platform rises, disclosing a rural scene with real water forming a waterfall and river. Gorgeous lights play over it and shine through the silver cascade of spilling water, while the stage behind adds to the effect with gently dissolving mixtures of many shades of light.

These two great attractions, with a group of snappy short subjects, complete a bill that should continue to draw tremendous crowds to the Fox. Incidentally, the Mae West picture, "I'm No Angel," has been moved to the Paramount for its second week.

Warmer and Rain Forecast for Today

Increasing cloudiness today, warmer, with rain and indications of colder weather afterwards were forecast Thursday by the weather bureau.

Today's range of temperature is expected to be from 54 to 64, compared with 50 to 68 Thursday. There was no rain Thursday and the weather was decidedly cooler.

Extremely cold weather in the northwest and in Canada, ranging from 6 degrees above zero to 30, may herald colder weather in the southeast, Forecaster George W. Mindling said.

Miss Strickland Weds Mr. Beggs At Fashionable Church Ceremony

The First Baptist Church of Decatur furnished the setting for the beautiful nuptial ceremony at which Miss Sara Forth Strickland became the bride of Elmore Dixie Beggs Jr., of Pensacola, Fla., at 8 o'clock last evening, the marriage assembling a fashionable throng of friends and relatives of the young couple. Dr. Adel Jarrett Moncrief, pastor of the church, read the marriage service.

The interior of the church presented a scene of floral beauty with its decorations of tropical foliage and exotic blossoms. The bridal tableau was formed on a raised platform, with a backdrop of southern smilax and a massing of palms and ferns banking the choir loft. Suspended above the platform was an elaborate shell-shaped canopy formed of asparagus ferns and studded with white roses, swansons and Easter lilies. A fringe of lilies, roses and swansons finished the canopy and each lily was centered with a miniature electric light. A white wicker floor basket filled with giant white chrysanthemums centered the platform under the canopy, and radiating either side of the basket was a sloping seven-branched candelabra holding slender cathedral tapers. Ranged across the front of the platform was a series of graceful white columns graduated in height. Topping each column was a cluster of white chrysanthemums, out of which arose a triangular shaped candelabra holding seven cathedral candles. Placed between the columns were white floor baskets filled with white chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns.

The bridemaids and groomsmen formed a group on the circular steps leading to the platform, while the remainder of the party assembled on the main platform. Standing in a line at the foot of the stairs were tall urns filled with white chrysanthemums and ferns. The pews of the two center aisles were marked with large single candles arising from clusters of white chrysanthemums tied with filmy white tulle. The ushers caught the ribbons to the bases of the candles, outlining the aisle in festooned effect. The wall brackets throughout the church held tall white tapers garlanded with southern smilax. Gracing the balcony rail at the back of the auditorium was a series of seven-branched candelabra connected with festoons of smilax.

Dr. C. W. Dieckman, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony, his selections including "Sweetest Wedding March," by Dieckman; "Cantilene Nuptiale," by Dubois; "Pizzicato," by Debussy; "Wedding March from Faramois," by Rubinstein; and "The Angels," by Massenet. During the ceremony Dr. Dieckman played Schubert's "Serenade," Miss Mary Charles Alexander, of Lincoln, N. C., soloist sang "Because" and "All For You."

Wedding Personnel.
The ushers included June Metz, Walton Bobb, DuPre Johnson and John Northrup, while the groomsmen were Charles Beggs, of Pensacola, brother of the bridegroom; Henry Sinclair, of Winter Haven, Fla.; William E. East, Jr., of Pensacola; Thomas N. Estes, of Gay, Ga.; John Wigginton, of Milton, Fla.; and Charles Smith, of Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. John C. Northrup acted as the bride's matron of honor and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Strickland, served as her maid of honor. The bridemaids were Miss Julia McLaughlin, Miss Louise Wise, of Americus; Miss Betty Fleming, of Atlanta; Miss Elizabeth Johnson, of Winter Haven, Fla.; Miss York, of Atlanta; and Miss Mary Jane Evans, of Fort Valley. Little Miss Peggy Smith and Roger Strickland Jr., of Concord, acted as junior bridesmaid and junior groomsmen.

The attendants were gowned alike in shimmering satin, the modish gown featuring the high neckline in front and a decollete cut to the waist in the back. The bodices molded the figure, as did the skirts, which flared gracefully below the knees and extended into short trains. The puffed sleeves were slightly draped and the waistlines finished with soft sashes tied at the back.

Mrs. Northrup's gown was of coral silk, Miss Strickland's of blue silk, and Miss Smith's of a faint dawn pink. The bridemaids' gowns were of various shades of blue, with two of the maids wearing Patience blue, two wearing Alpine blue, and the other two wearing Pacific blue. Complementing the effective costumes were arm bouquets of rapunzel roses and yellow snapdragons, tied with yellow ribbons. Acting as train-bearers were little Miss Ruth Elder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Elder, and little Miss May Haverly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverly Jr. They wore adorable frocks of flesh-tinted net built over pink tulle with long, off-the-shoulder neck-line and floor-length skirts formed of lace-edged ruffles. The shoulder straps were made of tiny French flowers and the tulle sashes extended into short trains. The train-bearers wore wrist-lets of sweetheart rose-buds tied with flesh-tinted ribbons.

Beautiful Bride.
Her slender, graceful figure encased in a bridal gown of an old ivory tint, the lovely young bride entered the church with her father, George Edgar Strickland, by whom she was joined in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, John T. Murphy, of Pensacola.

Designed on principles, the bride gown featured a bertha of hand-made duchesse lace, which outlined a round neckline in front and a deep V in the back. The long satin train was built into the back of the gown, and the sleeves were formed of billowy folds of tulle which fell to the length of the bride's veil and extended beneath the lace bertha and extended the length of the bride's veil of exquisite princess lace. The veil was caught to the bride's short blonde hair by a coronet of duchesse lace. Her only ornament was a diamond-studded platinum lavalier, which was a wedding gift to the bride's mother from her father. Completing the bridal ensemble was a bouquet of delicately tinted, flesh-toned orchids and valley ferns, tied with cream ribbon.

Following the church ceremony, George Edgar Strickland, father of the bride, entertained at a wedding reception at his home on Clairmont avenue, Decatur. Receiving the guests with the host, the bride and bridegroom, and the wedding party were Mrs. B. R. Beck, aunt of the bride; Judge E. D. Beggs and Mrs. Beggs, of Pensacola, parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. J. W. Strickland, of Concord; Mrs. J. C. M. Strickland, of Houston, Texas.

Assisting in entertaining were the attendants who formed the wedding party at the marriage of the bride's mother and father 23 years ago, and included Jud McLaughlin, Miss Sallie Mae Strickland, Miss Susie Matthews, Mesdames Tom Raines, Clinton Powell and G. C. Thompson. During the reception music was furnished by Mrs. F. C. Hutchinson, violinist, and Mrs. C. K. Chittenden, pianist. The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Ralph Heath, Miss Josephine Clark and Miss Mildred Garner. Misses Harriet and Jud Henderson, and Mary Adams served punch. Miss Frances Jackson and Miss Eleanor Strickland distributed to the guests the individual boxes holding wedding calling cards. Receiving the guests at the door were Mesdames R. C. Henderson, Calvin Prescott, Robert C. Ramspeck, Charles Metz and A. J. Moncrief.

Handsome Costumes.
Mrs. B. R. Beck, aunt of the bride, was handsomely gowned in soft brocade lame, displaying the Persian tints. Fashioned princess effect, the bodice was cut in a "V" both in the front and back, the skirt gained fullness extended to form a train. Mrs. Beck's flowers were a shoulder cluster of Johanna Hill roses and valley lilies. Mrs. E. D. Beggs, the bridegroom's mother, wore an imported gown of rose beige silk lace designed by Vionnet. Complementing her costume was a shoulder bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and valley lilies.

The interior of the home was transformed into a scene of floral beauty with its decorations of palms, ferns and autumn flowers. In the reception room the foliage plants were combined with giant white chrysanthemums and pink radiance roses. An attractive arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums, pink roses and bronze snapdragons adorned the music room. In the dining room the lace-covered table was centered with a handsome bride's cake, built in tiers and resting on a mound of asparagus, sweetheart roses and ferns. Gracing either end of the table was a triangular-shaped plateau of ageratum, swansons and sweet heart roses. Silver candelsticks held pale pink tapers, the bases of which were caught with clusters of sweetheart roses. The porch was enclosed in canvas and decorated to simulate a garden. Punch was served on the porch from bowls embedded in pastel-shaded garden flowers.

Mr. Beggs and his bride left for a wedding journey, after which they will reside in Pensacola, Fla., where the bridegroom is an outstanding figure in the Mega circles. Mrs. Beggs, whose traveling smart ensemble of beige tulle, worn with a crepe blouse and brown suede hat and accessories, was of French mixed wool, collared in luxurious mink fur.

Wedding Guests.
Among the guests from a distance who attended the wedding were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strickland, of Houston, Texas; Judge and Mrs. E. D. Beggs, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. James Johnston, William Fisher Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, all of Pensacola; John Wigginton, of Milton, Fla.; Henry Sinclair, of Winter Haven, Fla.; Mrs. Ernest Hefflin, of Pensacola, Va.; Mrs. R. NERVOUS WOMEN
Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "My nerves are all on edge." "I wish I were dead." ... how often have we heard these expressions from some woman who has become so tired and run-down that her nerves can no longer stand the strain.
No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition if she can help herself. She could give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. For nearly sixty years women have taken this wonderful tonic to give them renewed strength and vigor.
Out of every 100 women who report to us that they are benefited by this medicine, they are better today ... and watch the results.

NERVOUS WOMEN
Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "My nerves are all on edge." "I wish I were dead." ... how often have we heard these expressions from some woman who has become so tired and run-down that her nerves can no longer stand the strain.
No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition if she can help herself. She could give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. For nearly sixty years women have taken this wonderful tonic to give them renewed strength and vigor.
Out of every 100 women who report to us that they are benefited by this medicine, they are better today ... and watch the results.

Miss Thomas Weds Alton P. Ballard

"Miss Evelyn Sue Thomas became the bride of Alton Powell Ballard at a quiet and impressive ceremony at 6:30 o'clock on Monday evening, October 16, in the First Baptist church of Hapeville. The Rev. Z. E. Barron performed the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and close friends.

The improvised altar, before which the vows were taken, was banked with ferns, evergreens and tall baskets of vari-colored dahlias. Preceding the ceremony an appropriate program of music was rendered by Miss Ruth Barron. Immediately before the bridal party entered Mrs. W. H. Scott, an aunt of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly." The wedding march was "Lohengrin" and was used as the processional. The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Miss Mary Poole was the maid of honor and only attendant, and her costume was a stylish model in eagle blue, with accessories of harmonizing tones. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses.

The lovely bride entered with her brother, E. Carl Cranford, who gave her in marriage. She presented a charming picture in her gown of eagle blue crepe, with touches of white. She wore a becoming close-fitting hat with accessories of eel gray. Her corsage was of bride's roses showered with valley lilies. The bride was joined at the altar by the groom and his best man, Caleb E. Rhodes, of Charlotte, N. C.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal couple left by motor for a trip through western North Carolina. After November 1, they will be at home in Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Barksdale is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cranford, of Macon, Ga. She is a graduate of Smith High school, and for the last few years has resided in Atlanta, where she has a wide circle of friends. Mr. Barksdale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barksdale, of Columbus, Miss. He is a leader in the social and civic affairs of Charlotte, where he is connected with the Westinghouse Company.

Miss Elizabeth Cranford became the bride of Henry F. Barksdale, of Charlotte, N. C., at a beautiful ceremony quietly solemnized at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 14, at the Druid Hills Baptist church. Dr. Louis D. Newton performed the ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends of the young couple.

Ferns, smilax and palms formed an effective background for the tall candelabra, arranged in a semi-circle, which held white cathedral candles. The altar was banked with ferns, pyramid formation, and pedestal baskets were filled with white chrysanthemums.

Before the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Irene Call, accompanist to Miss Eleanor Stone, who sang "At Dawning" and "Because." The wedding chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional. The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Tech Favored by Coach McJuglin To Beat Tulane Saturday

WELL-BALANCED ATTACK GIVES JACKETS EDGE

Tennessee, If Recovered From Loss, Picked To Beat Tide.

By Dan McGugin.

Head Football Coach, Vanderbilt University.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—Although the season is only well started a little stock taking and reappraisal are necessary.

Tennessee and Alabama were pre-season picks to be the big shots, largely because they were good last year and returned many veterans.

Auburn and Louisiana State were considered the best possibilities to upset the pre-season calculations.

Louisiana finished strong last year and had added a large number of excellent sophomores. Auburn almost won the 1932 conference championship and returned most of last year's team losing, however, her All-American back, Hitchcock.

OUTSIDE CHANCES. Georgia, Georgia Tech and Kentucky were given outside chances to break through. Vanderbilt, losing all of her regulars but two, was not expected to get far this year.

Over in the Southern conference, Duke and Virginia Poly looked best, but not on a par with the best in the Southeastern group.

Now, the middle of October, Alabama has been tied by Mississippi and Auburn defeated by Georgia Tech. Kentucky, with a great punter in Kercheval and a fine defense, has won from Georgia Tech and remains undefeated.

Georgia Tech, with a hard schedule, has taken her games as they come and each week gets better. Louisiana has not yet been tested in the conference. Tennessee, after overwhelming Virginia Poly, lost to a well-rounded fighting Duke team. Vanderbilt's sophomores have been getting excellent experience and may be tough by November.

Alabama and Tennessee are probably the best teams in the Southeastern group.

TULANE LEAVES FOR TECH GAME

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Coach Ted C. Crenshaw tonight with 32 Tulane University football players for Atlanta, where the Green Wave will meet Georgia Tech Saturday. The squad, in fine shape, went through a light passing, running and signal practice this afternoon.

Tri-City Grid Title Is at Stake Today

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Tri-city championship of Columbus, Ga., Phenix City and Girard, Ala., will be settled Friday afternoon when the football teams of the Columbus High School and Central High, Phenix City, meet in Memorial stadium here.

Central High won the title last year for the first time in the history of the competition and is favored to repeat the victory. The Alabamians are heavier and more experienced than their Georgia rivals.

TECH IS RATED AS UNDERDOG IN WAVE GAME

Jackets Will Start Team Which Won From Auburn Eleven.

By Ralph McGill.

Georgia Tech closed out the last strenuous campaigning for the Tulane game with a brisk scrimmage in the closing shadows of Thursday afternoon.

It saw the Jackets still a bit befuddled by the Tulane offense. Naag Hays, a freshman back, driving right through the line and eluding the defense for a touchdown.

But there was some slight improvement over the work of Wednesday although the coaches came off the field with serious faces.

There was some slight improvement in the defensive work of the team in comparison with the play of Wednesday. But it was not enough to remove that tired look from the faces of the coaches. There was a billboard across the way with the picture of a young lady removing a mask of pain and fear by the simple procedure of taking a swig of a well-known drink that refreshes. But the coaches went right on in. I judged this was more than skin deep.

CONFIDENCE. The Tech team showed none of the confidence which was so evident before the Kentucky game, dropped at Lexington by a 7-0 score.

Tech goes into the Tulane game as a very definite underdog and the underdog never feels very chipper. He simply gnashes his teeth and hopes to be able to die a good death. Or maybe come surging up and knock over the upperdog.

Tulane and Tech are sure to attract a swarm of customers to Grant field Saturday. The game is one of those natural. Tulane has an excellent defense, but it is not as good as the one which pulled the paying guests upon their toes and keeps them there. It includes, if the going gets tough enough, a lot of laterals, double passes.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Frank R. Rice

The Round-Up. Michigan-Ohio State: This game should be one of the hardest Western football games. It is doubtful if there will be as much man power on another field this fall. Both have powerful lines with big, strong ends. While there is little to choose, there is a good chance that the defense in this game will overthrow the attack. I like Michigan by a shade with almost nothing to spare.

Princeton-Columbia: One of the best games in the east. Both have had fairly easy coasting up to this spot, but they will step into plenty of action Saturday. Columbia has a strong first team, but it may be a question of rest, which respect Princeton is much better off.

Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame—Young Harpster has apparently turned out a fine job of coaching at Carn Tech. The victory was the first of the season for the two strongest teams in the south. Both have taken heavy beatings from injuries and accidents and this may reduce the playing strength of each side. The Notre Dame team is almost perfectly matched and one of the main jobs will be for either to score. If there is any margin it should belong to Tennessee with the game being played on Knoxville soil.

Tennessee-Alabama—Tennessee and Alabama, next to Georgia and Duke, are probably the two strongest teams in the south. Both have taken heavy beatings from injuries and accidents and this may reduce the playing strength of each side. The Notre Dame team is almost perfectly matched and one of the main jobs will be for either to score. If there is any margin it should belong to Tennessee with the game being played on Knoxville soil.

Minnesota-Pittsburgh—While the Navy failed to extend Pittsburgh last year, the victory was the first of the season for the two strongest teams in the south. Both have taken heavy beatings from injuries and accidents and this may reduce the playing strength of each side. The Notre Dame team is almost perfectly matched and one of the main jobs will be for either to score. If there is any margin it should belong to Tennessee with the game being played on Knoxville soil.

Chicago-Purdue—For the first time in years Chicago has material that might annoy anybody in the Big Ten. Clark Shaughnessy, who succeeded Stagg, has whipped the Maroon team into a real threat. The Crimson is one of the best of the backs of the year. Purdue, however, has a fine all-around backfield and just about enough in the way of experience to pull through.

Penn-Dartmouth—The first real test that either team has met this year. Dartmouth is coming along nicely and looks to be a little more than the Red and Blue.

New York University-Colgate—A hard game for N. Y. U. Ker's Colgate team this fall is just about as good as the strong team a year ago. It has the same speed and deception with a firm close line to work on. Colgate also has an exceptionally good field general in Noleau.

Harvard-Holy Cross—Harvard's way has been along an easy road up to this game. The Crimson has had very little work to do but there is always plenty in the way of work when Holy Cross comes along.

Yale-Brown—Two teams where one or two unbeaten teams must land in trouble. This Brown game will be the first definite, thorough test of the new college system which Reggie Root and his staff have introduced. Brown will miss the flock of stars from last year's strong team, but Toss McLaughlin's squads are nearly always smart and alert. Yale apparently has the better material to offer for this game, and should get by in a very close duel.

Illinois-Army—One of the best intersectional games of the season. Zupke is back on the map again and has a good Illinois team, and that means a hard afternoon for anybody. The Army has been coming along steadily with a very clever set of backs but it is still a question whether the Cadet line can match Illinois. I look to see Illinois win.

Louisiana State-Arkansas—Two of the strongest teams in the southwest. The Paine state received a jolt from Little Centenary but the material is there for a good year. The same applies to Arkansas; however, I like L. S. U.

Kansas State-Nebraska—Nebraska and Kansas are rated at the top of the Big Six but Kansas State is only a half-tride behind. Bo McMillen has another smart passing drill. I believe Nebraska has too much power.

Cornell-Syracuse—Two old rivals from other years who have at last patched up an ancient feud. This will be a good, even fight but I think Syracuse has a slender edge.

Northwestern-Dartmouth—After seeing how far Dick Hanley went with the Northwestern team against Stanford, I think the chances are he will have it just about powerful enough to top Indiana. This should be a low scoring game where the winning margin will not be more than a touchdown.

Georgia Tech-Tulane—Tulane has been showing steady improvement in the last week or ten days, but I think Bill Alexander's bunch will have something to spare when the game is over. Tech has a good team this year; not a great team, but a consistent one that should improve every Saturday.

Colored Elevens To Arrive Today. Several hundred Augusta rooters will accompany the Paine College football eleven here Saturday to battle with the Maroon Tigers of Morehouse College, on Ponce de Leon park. The Paine party will include 35 players, two coaches, team physician and trainer, will arrive late this afternoon and will be quartered at Morehouse during the stay in the city. Coaches Ellis, Forbes and Williams will put the finishing touches on the squad this afternoon with a light sign.

Very little is known of the Paine eleven here, but if past reputations count for anything, they will present a formidable team when they take the field against the Augusta Tigers. Reports from Augusta have it that the team is composed of veterans and boast on about the strongest forward wall in colored football.

TALLADEGA ARRIVES. Coach Kitchens and his Talladega "Bulldogs" arrive today to meet an ancient conference rival in Clark University, Saturday at Clark.

Coaches Aiken, Archer and McPherson, of Clark University, announced that the squad is in the pink of condition and that party work will be assigned them today in their final practice session. The strongest backfield to ever represent the school will be seen in this encounter.

Owner of Browns Fights for Life. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Phil Ball, who is owner of the St. Louis Browns, has battled for years against tremendous odds, is putting up the hardest fight of his life here against septicemia.

Ball, 60 years old, has been under the care of Dr. Robert P. Hyland, club physician, in St. John's hospital. Dr. Hyland said the baseball manager's blood stream is affected.

As a consequence the president of the Browns was unable to transact any baseball business and Manager Rogers Hornsby and his plans for the 1934 edition of the Browns are marking time.

Wrigley To Head Affairs of Cubs. CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Out of a maze of conflicting rumors and guesses came apparently reliable information today that Owner Philip K. Wrigley would succeed the late William L. Veeck as president of the Chicago Cubs and later name a business manager to run the club's affairs.

SPEER TO FACE JONES TUESDAY

Frank Speer, former Tech football star and one of the outstanding young wrestlers in the business, will meet Paul Jones, the big Texas hook soccer king, in the main match of Henry Weber's wrestling show at the city auditorium next Tuesday night.

Jones, one of the most popular wrestlers ever to appear here, lost in his last match at the auditorium to John Pesek, the Tiger Man, in a fine match.

Speer defeated Jack Zarnos in his last match here and is continuing his steady march to the top.

This is their second meeting on an Atlanta mat and a great match should be the result.

A good semi-windup match will be announced later by Matchmaker Weber. Tickets will be placed on sale immediately at the Piedmont Hatters.

DOUGLAS

AMERICA'S GREAT SHOE-VALUE

These prices can't go up!

When a pair of W. L. Douglas shoes is made, a fair retail price is determined from the actual cost—and that price is stamped on the sole. It can't be altered or raised. We will not profiteer! The shoes MUST be sold as stamped. That's why you save money this fall! 430,000 pairs of new-style Douglas shoes were made and stamped when leather and manufacturing costs were low. Shoes are up. But not these Douglas shoes! By today's standards, their style, ease, and wear are worth much more! Over half of the 430,000 pairs are gone. Get the rest while they last—at money-saving prices!

SMITHIES MEET LANIER POETS HERESATURDAY

Tech High Plays at Poncey Tomorrow Night To Close Week.

Boys' High and G. M. A. will meet at 7:45 o'clock at Poncey de Leon park for the first of the two feature prep games for the week. Boys' High is the defending city champion and also owns the state and southern titles. In the other game, Tech High meets Lanier High Saturday night at Poncey de Leon park. It will be the first football meeting between Tech High and Lanier High in many years.

Deuter High plays Commercial at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Decatur in the only other prep game for the week here. Boys' High should not have much trouble with the light G. M. A. team and Coach Doyal is only worried about the overconfidence of his squad. The Hurricane is not in the best of condition, with several players out. Dick Jones, center, is still limping from a knee injury suffered last week. Carey McQueen, halfback, has a broken nose but will be in the starting lineup. Rudy Atkinson, the quarterback, has not been at practice for several days, due to illness, and Carlisle Smith has a bad charley horse. Despite the injuries, Boys' High has many capable reserves and those players have been scrimmaged this week against University School for Boys, and will likely see plenty of service in tonight's game. G. M. A. will fight to overcome a non-scoring complex this year. The Cadets have the material, but due to a late start have not developed as fast as some of the others. G. M. A. was much improved against Monroe Aggies last week and will "shoot the works" tonight in an effort to stop the Hurricane eleven.

The lineups of both teams are very uncertain and were not announced Thursday night.

Speaking of Fighters, What About Greb?

"There Was a Man," Sighs Mickey Walker, Recalling Pittsburgh Windmill.

By Edward J. Neil,
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mickey Walker, the toy bulldog from New Jersey, may be getting old as fighters go. Ring lights have glared down on him as welterweight champion, middleweight champion and heavyweight title contender.

The bright lights of other places have shone on him just as long, leaving him an expert both in the ways of the ring and the wayward. He fights Maxey Rosenbloom, who likewise has achieved some fame in both directions, for the light-heavyweight title in Madison Square Garden November 3.

Now Mickey is willing to concede Rosenbloom's reputation as a prize fighter. A champion, naturally, stands for progress among the cauliflowerers. But as a flowering bloom among the primroses, Rosenbloom, he insists, cannot qualify.

"Harry Greb," sighs Mickey recently, "there was a man. I fought him 15 of the toughest rounds anyone ever lived through in the Polo Grounds in 1925. I thought I won but they gave him the decision and when it was over I headed for Broadway and a lobster shop I knew. I was all bunged up."

"WHAT A MAN!" In walked Greb as soon as I was settled and he had a girl with him. He insisted that I join his party. Then when we were through he wanted to go dancing. I had to go along. Either that or fight him all over again.

"We must have danced for hours. In fact we danced so long Harry's girl got tired and he left her. Up to light and we stumbled out into the morning air."

"All of a sudden Harry grabbed me by the back of the neck. Up to that time we hadn't even mentioned the fight."

"Just to show you I can lick you any time, anywhere," he said. He said, 'Before I could even argue he squared off and made a rush for me. I stepped back and let him have a left hook on the chin as he came in and he staggered some but came right back swinging both hands. In a second we were all over the street. A cop came running down the sidewalk, swinging his night stick. I saw him lift it high over his head."

"JUST TWO OLD PALS." "Hey, yell at him. I'm Mickey Walker and that's Harry Greb. We're just kidding a little. Don't hit us."

"I was just getting into bed when the phone rang. 'Greb at the other end,' I'm sorry for what I just did, but don't forget I can always lick you."

I guess maybe he could, at that. But this Rosenbloom... Pay no attention. He doesn't either smoke or drink."

DARTMOUTH. HANOVER, N. H.—Dartmouth had its longest drill of the season in its training camp yesterday for the Penn game. The first two eleven worked at polishing up their attacks, specializing in forward passes, while the third and fourth scrimmaged.

TECH TO WIN. Assuming that Tennessee gets over the effects of the Duke game, I pick her to win from Alabama because of better punting and her very brilliant backs, including the dangerous Brackett and the great Feathers. Georgia Tech is picked to win from Tulane, having a better balanced team, though Saturday may be the day when Tulane may reach her possibilities. The other conference games are expected to be one-sided, though Mississippi State will give Vanderbilt a hard afternoon.

GATORS' LOOM AS CONFERENCE SURPRISE TEAM

By John W. Wilds,
Associated Press Sports Writer.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Southern football with a discerning ear has sensed a new note in the Florida Gators' call this year. Early last season there was a similar sound, but it soon faded to a docile whisper as the Saurian threatened about as much as a new life. A blood transfusion followed, in the form of a brand-new alumni coaching staff, and fans settled back with a "nothing risked—nothing gained" attitude to watch the result.

What they have seen thus far has tended to make confirmed optimists of them all.

NO 80 GOOD. On a looking back September afternoon they looked like a team of flashy backs out all sorts of capers in downing a determined Stetson outfit, 28 to 0. There was a lot of head-shaking the next day as the fans pointed out any number of weaknesses—poor blocking, fumbling, imperfect timing and slow charging.

But the youthful coaching staff wasted no time in getting out the Gators. Head Coach Dutch Stanley, who had coached the North Carolina State Wolfpack, but neither team scored.

The next Saturday, in Jacksonville, Florida's storied grounds of the Florida team, the Gator opened his mouth wide, roared, and charged. When the dust had settled, a 31-to-0 score. The same Saturday team, mind you, that made Kentucky fight for a 7-0 verdict last week before.

Last Saturday they sent the Gator to a new battlefield to do or die under the floodlights. Florida outplayed, outmanned and outplayed the North Carolina State Wolfpack, but neither team scored.

GATORS FAVORED. Back from the coast, Stanley again said little. "You can put it in the papers that we've got a good ball team. If they play as well in the coming games as they did against North Carolina State, I'll be perfectly satisfied."

Florida will be favored by Florida fans in a game with North Carolina Saturday. But in the next four games the world will learn whether the Gators' call is a false alarm. Scheduled in order are Tennessee, Georgia, Georgia Tech and Auburn.

Not even the most sanguine Florida fan expects Stanley's team to win in its first four games. Some hope for a miracle, but the consensus seems to be that victories over North Carolina and Maryland plus a win from the four "buggers" would start Florida on a come-back.

Young Coaches Have Likely Material; Meet N. C. Saturday.

THE LINEUPS. Tech will start a team which will be largely composed of the players who started the Auburn game. This means that Shaw will be at guard, the two Wilcox boys at the center, Williams and Tharpe at tackles and Gibson and Slocum at end.

Shorty Roberts is the likely signal caller with Galloway, Davis and Phillips as the other members of the quartet.

There is just one trouble with that backfield. It isn't a kicker in it. Tulane will start the usual array of large linemen and fleet backs, including Prescher, Roberts, Monk, Simmons, Joe Loftin and the new sensation, Bucky Bryant, who is said to be faster than a greyhound.

Both teams will limber up today. And check defenses.

Skeet Shooters Open Southern Meet Today

Teams From Over Dixie To Compete for Honors at Capitol Club Traps.

Atlanta's skeet shooters will be hosts today and Saturday to the Southern States Skeet championship shoot at the Capitol Gun Club, with 200 targets on the two-day program. Today's shoot will start at 1 o'clock, and the Saturday program will be fired at 9:30 o'clock, in plenty of time for participants to witness the Tech-Tulane football game that afternoon.

Teams have been entered from Birmingham, Chattanooga and Knoxville, in addition to Atlanta's delegation. Entries are expected from several other neighboring cities. Eight handsome trophies will be awarded to the winners of the various events.

The shoot has been sanctioned by the National Skeet Shooting Association and any records made will be forwarded to the national association and will be recognized.

There will be four events of 25 targets each in the Southern Skeet class championship this afternoon. The Southern States Skeet championship will be fired Saturday.

The shoot is being sponsored by the Capitol Gun Club, and Jack Tway, secretary of club, announced that a special class has been provided for beginners.

JACKETS RATED AS UNDERDOG

And that sort of thing. And there is always the possibility of a fumble. And a recovery by Tech. Things like that provide no end of thrills. And keep the spectators warm. Because they leap about so much.

THOSE FUMBLES. Tulane dropped the football five times in the Georgia game. And there are those who insist that Tulane's better offense at Athens, that is, as they say, a moot question.

Tulane arrives this morning at 11 o'clock. The Wave, slightly subdued by losses to Texas A. & M. and Georgia, is rejuvenated a bit by the victory over Maryland.

Tulane has the football players. And coaches have given them a great offense. But the coaches aren't allowed to put handles on the football. That's been the trouble to date.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Security markets lurched downward again today, reserving their most substantial action for the last half hour when trading was active and support thin.

A net decline of 3.6 points in the Standard Statistics-Associated Press stock composite, which had advanced to 68.4, the lowest since May 8, was also noted, commodities, with the exception of wheat, were generally in better performance, though corn was heavy. December wheat closed higher; other months were down moderately in erratic trading.

Stock market followers again seemed subject to a case of discouragement and nerves, aggravated, no doubt, by a goodly crop of rumors, chiefly with respect to foreign affairs. Drifts of liquidation appeared in the morning, but selling was fairly well taken and the market succeeded in recovering much of its decline, only to run against heavier offerings. The closing tone was weak, the general range of losses being 1 to 5 points. Volume increased to 2,895,895 shares.

Such leaders as United States Steel common, Allied Chemical, New York Central, Du Pont and Santa Fe were under pressure virtually all day and were among the larger losers. Steel broke 36 for a net loss of 2.12, Union Pacific went under 100 and was down 3.5. While Central closed at 26 3/4, off 3 points. American Telephone lost 1 3/4 net. Pennsylvania, Westinghouse, Sears-Roebuck, Harvester, Case and Union Carbide, to 3, and several liquor stocks 4 to 6. American Can was fairly steady.

Foreign exchanges were rather erratic. The most tangible piece of news came after closing time when the New York Federal Reserve bank reduced its rediscount rate from 2 1/2 per cent, where it had been since May 25, to 2 per cent. Although one reason for a reduction was probably to bring the rate closer to open market levels for money, a more logical explanation appeared to be the bank's desire to encourage lending by banks.

The reserve system was content to reduce slightly its purchases of federal securities, adding $1,000,000 in the past week. A recent average of $35,000,000, Gold reserves increased nearly $2,000,000 in total reserve credit outstanding.

LOANS TO BROKERS

INCREASE IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending Oct. 18 were announced by the federal reserve board today at $315,000,000, representing an increase of $34,000,000 as compared with $281,000,000 the week ending Oct. 11, 1932, were $411,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the nine months dealt with in the board's report was:

For own account, October 18, 1933, $801,000,000; October 11, 1933, $864,000,000; October 19, 1932, $411,000,000.

For account of out-of-town banks, October 18, 1933, $117,000,000; October 11, 1933, $114,000,000; October 19, 1932, $116,000,000.

For account of others, October 18, 1933, $7,000,000; October 11, 1933, $3,000,000; October 19, 1932, $8,000,000.

Totals, October 18, 1933, $815,000,000; October 11, 1933, $881,000,000; October 19, 1932, $429,000,000.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady and unchanged at 9.00. Receipts 229; shipments 135; stocks 171,227.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(P)—Cotton showed minor changes after an irregular start today.

December contracts, which had sold up from 9.06 to 9.27 or about 21 points from the low level of the morning, closed at 9.16, with the general market closing steady, net unchanged to 5 points lower.

Demand was comparatively limited, although early offerings were absorbed by scale down from trade sources or covering. After showing declines of about 10 to 15 points shortly after the call, prices recovered on reports of a continued firm spot situation in the south.

May contracts worked up from the early low of 9.40 to 9.50 with active months generally showing recoveries of some 18 to 20 points from the low levels of the morning and selling 9 to 11 points net higher.

Offerings increased on this bulge and there were reactions in the late trading under southern selling and liquidation which was influenced to some extent by a late break in stocks. Closing quotations showed reactions of some 9 to 12 points from the best.

Buying was again attributed to agencies which are supposed to be connected with operations in seed loan cotton.

Exports today, 40,732, making 1,026,651 so far this season. Port receipts, 43,173. United States port stocks, 3,525,029.

PRICE OF COTTON HOLDS.

STEADY IN NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—Cotton was only moderately active today and prices held fairly steady considering the weakness of outside markets. The close was unchanged to 2 points down.

She was brought here yesterday from Arcadia, La., where reports stated she fainted and struck her head on a sidewalk. No ill effects were noted at the time, but head pains developed as her trip was continued to Shreveport. Mrs. Buié was en route with her husband, a Vicksburg oil man, to Fort Worth, Texas. Her fall happened just as she was emerging from a cafe in Arcadia.

IVOR J. C. HERBERT

FATHER IS SENTENCED IN "DEVIL SLAYING"

LINDEN, Texas, Oct. 19. (AP)—Sherman Clayton was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment today upon conviction on a murder charge in connection with the "devil slaying" of his three-year-old invalid daughter, Bernice, last winter.

The jury had deliberated eight hours. Attorneys for Clayton announced they would ask for a new trial when court convenes tomorrow and, should the motion be denied, would appeal the case.

The state had attempted to show that Clayton was in the room in his home in a remote sector of east Texas last December while Paul Oakley and his brother, Coy, prayed over the child.

Paul Oakley was sentenced to 50 years' imprisonment at a trial here in May and a mistrial resulted in Coy's trial at Sulphur Springs a month ago.

UNIVERSALISTS FAVOR UNION WITH UNITARIAN

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 19. (AP)—The general convention of the Universalist church today accepted the plan for association with the Unitarian church of the Free Church of America.

Two amendments to the plan were adopted. These provided for the revision of the Free Church constitution to those "who work for the kingdom of God in the spirit of Jesus."

As originally drawn the preamble made no mention of a deity. The second amendment instructs the Universalist members of the council governing the Free Church to seek reconsideration of the name and adoption of one which discloses the nature of the organization as an association rather than a church.

MAN KILLED IN FILMING OF NEW HUSTON MOVIE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—William Casel, 27, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was killed today when he was run over by six cavalry horses and a heavy caisson while filming a scene at near-by Fort Myer, Virginia, for a motion picture starring Walter Huston.

It was one of those shots in which the horses appear to be galloping from the screen over the audience. The scene was being retaken when one of the horses, racing across an open field, stumbled and the other camera set-up just at the edge of the horses and diverting them over the course.

William Miller, of Great Neck, Long Island, also was run over, but managed to escape the racing hoofs and wheels. Casel's chest was crushed.

The plan for merging the churches makes it impossible for the proposed union to become effective until 1939.

Joan Blondell Wants To Be Known as Barnes

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19. (AP)—Joan Blondell, film star, broke a precedent tonight when she informed Warner Bros.-First National Studios that hereafter she desired to be known on the screen under her legal name, Joan Barnes.

The monetary value of a screen name built up through the years is something that so far as the oldest heads in Hollywood could remember has always been a prime consideration, even though it did not even approximate the true name of the player.

No actor or actress within memory of the experts ever has tampered with the name under which fame was achieved, but the attractive wife of George Barnes, film cameraman, did not see why she should not be known under her true name.

Smith Urges Reforms By Cotton Exchanges

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 19. (AP)—Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, said tonight that unless "the cotton exchanges immediately take steps to abolish the southern delivery system he would endeavor to have such legislative action taken as may be necessary."

The chairman of the senate agricultural committee said he considered the southern delivery system "a most barish and price depressant influence." He indicated the legislative action he contemplated would include "an investigation of all cotton exchanges as to what effect their practices have upon the fluctuation in cotton and their effect upon the farm prices."

The senator made his statement after a conference here with T. Ralph Jones and Hunter A. Hogan, representing the Norfolk, Va., cotton exchange. Jones and Hogan said they were telegraphing W. G. Dowling, president of the New York Cotton Exchange, of Senator Smith's position.

"I am in favor," the senator said, "not only of abolishing the southern delivery system but of so changing the form of contract as to give the buyer a more equitable right under the contract. Details of this will be worked out with care."

Coal Miner Is Slain In Union Demonstration

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 19. (AP)—One coal miner was shot and killed today as he and 15,000 fellow members of the Progressive Miners of America swarmed belligerently into the state capital with demands for union recognition.

The victim, Melville Staples, 31, of near by Taylorville, was shot down in the only major disturbance of the day. Three companies of national guardsmen were held ready but were not called upon.

Members of the Progressives' faction charged Staples was killed by a member of the United Mine Workers of America, which has exclusive working rights in the numerous Peabody Coal Company mines and others throughout the state. Both unions have warred for 14 months for supremacy, and a score of slayings have occurred.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Fred Haynes, former head of the United Mine Workers' local at Kincaid, Ill., near Taylorville, in connection with the killing.

VETERAN DIES IN FALL FROM GRADY WINDOW

Mind Clouded With Delusion, Man Overpowers Guard, Plunges 2 Stories.

His mind clouded with a delusion that he was being persecuted, John H. Taylor, 42-year-old World War veteran, walked out of a second story window at the Grady hospital to his death early Thursday morning. He resided at 562 Capitol avenue.

Taylor was under guard of an attendant in a special room at the hospital and was being treated for an illness contracted several days ago. He imagined that authorities were pursuing him for a crime which he did not commit and for which the punishment was death.

He overpowered the attendant and stepped from the window, thinking it was a door. He fell 20 feet to the pavement below and his injuries proved fatal two hours later.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of the J. Austin Dillon Company. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Taylor was a paper hanger and was unmarried. He is survived by two brothers, C. C. and B. B. Taylor, and two sisters, Mrs. E. J. Hunter and Mrs. C. E. Miller.

U. S. AWAITING BIDS ON STEEL RAIL ORDERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—The administration today still awaited bids from the great steel companies for 800,000 tons of steel rail for use of a large group of railroads, asked 10 days ago in an effort to increase employment.

At the office of Joseph B. Eastman, co-ordinator of transportation handling the matter, it was said that beyond acknowledgment of Eastman's letters appraising steel companies of the carriers' needs, no word had been received. All of the companies advised him that they would bid.

A spirit of revolution still prevails in Cuba, according to Arthur M. Evans, political writer and forecaster for the Chicago Tribune. Mr. Evans has been in Cuba for some time, and is stopping at the Biltmore en route back to Chicago.

"The army, navy and student parties have control of the country," said Mr. Evans, "and whatever they do the rest of the country will follow. The army has been the power behind the throne in the Machado and San Grau Martin regimes, and lack of the support of the army caused Céspedes to fail."

"Conditions seem better, but, like everything else there, are not stable," Mr. Evans continued. "The lower standard of living prevents as much distress as in the United States, although there are some bread lines or similar forms of assistance."

"The real test of the government is expected to come around the middle of January, when the cane harvest begins. If the government survives until then, many of the agitators will have left the country, which will make the problem easier to solve. Syndicates, similar to American unions, are being formed, but whether their demands will be heeded is problematical. Some industries have adopted an eight-hour day, but in reality this has had little effect, as no hours there are excessively long."

Mr. Evans will leave Atlanta today.

SHIPFITTER CRUSHED IN "HOODOO" TURRET

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 19. (AP)—Richard Kent, of Portsmouth, a shipfitter in the Norfolk navy yard, was crushed to death in Number 2 turret on the battleship Mississippi by gun elevating mechanism shortly before noon today.

The turret in which the tragedy occurred today is the same one in which 40 men were killed by an explosion several years ago, and in which a sailor committed suicide last year.

MAYO'S MEN'S STORE WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Mayo's Clothes, the new men's clothing store of Crane & Crane Clothes, Inc., of New York, will open at 45 Peachtree street on Saturday morning. This and another unit being opened simultaneously at Augusta, make the 43d store operated by this company.

The company has been manufacturing clothes since 1907. Several years ago it began to sell its output through its own retail outlets. It has several stores through the south, but this is its farthest invasion of the southeast.

A. B. Joffe, an official, is putting the finishing touches on the store which the company leased for a long term of years.

"Our company has always been a heavy producer of woolen goods," Mr. Joffe said, "and we got in the market on the eve of the rise in prices. Consequently we are in a position to sell goods at low prices."

"The expression, 'factory to you,' means something in this case. We save on costs by making our own clothes, and this saving we are pleased to pass on to the buyers."

"The supply of distressed merchandise is virtually exhausted, and merchants who had depended on this source of supply are at a disadvantage in this market."

"This condition tends to stabilize prices, which is one of the main objectives in the administration's recovery program."

The store will deal in moderately priced clothes, and will specialize on its service.
